Big Cargo Vessel Goes Down In Atlantic—Thrilling Rescues In Tossing Sea

(Copyright by International News Service, 1930)

ABOARD THE S. S. MAURETANIA, Nov. 20.—The Liner Mauretania today was plowing through fast running seas to New York, her passenger list augmented unexpectedly by the dramatic rescue of 28 persons, one of them a woman, from the sunken Swedish cargo steamer Ovidia.

Summoned from her mid-Atlantic course by the distressed ship's SOS flashed out at 2:30 a. m. yesterday, the Mauretania began a nine hour dash under full steam through heavy seas to reach the Ovidia.

Upon receipt of the SOS Captain McNeil of the Mauretania immediately altered the course of his gaudy vessel and plunged her at full speed in the direction of the sinking vessel. The passengers aboard remained in total ignorance of the change in course and the dramatic mission upon which they were engaged.

PA NEW OBSERVES

A little boy remarked in an entreating tone to his father: "Daddy, I wanna go up in that little house. I wanna, I wanna, I wanna." The lad was pointing to the crossing watchman's house at the railroad tracks on East Washington street.

Now that North street, between East street and Neshannock avenue, is open to traffic, there are no more detours in the city.

Pa New observed a most peculiar odor hanging over the city last evening, which reminded that of pepper. It was very pronounced and could be distinguished in several different sections of the city.

The shaft upon which the copper ball, on top of the First Christian church steeple, rests is 30 feet long, according to Carl Becker. From the ground it looks to be about 3 feet long. Which all goes to show you how deceptive things can be. The ball is 3 feet in diameter and 16 inches at the base.

Pa New was told the other day that four sets of brothers work for a local bus company—all drivers of buses.

About six miles to the gallon of gas is the average made by motor buses, Pa News is told.

Certain it is that a wonderful improvement has been made on East North street between East and Neshannock avenues. Action should be taken at once to eliminate mud.

Postmaster-General Will Ask Congress To Increase Rates

Postmaster Brown Proposes To Increase Postal Rates Half-Cent

Strong Opposition To Plan Is Expected In Both Branches Of Congress

By WILLIAM S. NEAL, International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Postmaster General Brown has decided to submit to Congress his proposal to raise the cost of letter postage from two to two and a half cents, despite advice from members that it is doomed to defeat, it was learned today.

The recommendation is expected to be considered by post office committees of both Senate and House, and strong opposition is indicated.

Plan Opposed

Representative Kelly (R.) of Pennsylvania, member of the House committee, declared Brown's proposal is entirely without justification.

"The postmaster general's report for 1929 shows a profit of $84,000,000 on first-class mail at the present rate," said Kelly.

"A loss is reported on all other classes of mail. It seems illogical to add $75,000,000 to the cost of first-class postage."

"I have contended since 1923 when the first cost ascertainment was made in the post office that it was made on an erroneous basis. There is no such profit in handling

Former Sheriff Is New Squire

H. M. Reynolds Is Named As Union Township Justice Of Peace

Ex-Sheriff Harrison M. "Buck" Reynolds is now a Justice of the Peace for Union Township. Early today Governor John S. Fisher appointed Squire Reynolds to the post, to succeed Samuel A. Leiby who passed away recently.

The new justice of the peace was one of the youngest sheriffs ever to serve Lawrence County. For a number of years he was a motorcycle officer on the New Castle Police Force and was elected sheriff while in that position.

The call of the great open spaces prompted Buck to move to Union Township after his term as sheriff expired and he built a home on the Youngstown Road. His office will be in his home.

Nine Dead From Hawaiian Flood

Floods On Island Of Oahu Kill Nine; Thirty Are Missing; Damage Runs High

(International News Service)
HONOLULU, T. H., Nov. 20.—The toll from the floods on the Island of Oahu today stood at nine dead, thirty missing and property damage estimated at $200,000. The floods were caused by a heavy downpour of rain which lasted for twenty-four hours.

The narrow Kailhi Valley was the section hit heaviest by the storms. Numerous small homes were swept from their foundations in this vicinity and carried down stream.

Arrangements For St. Louis Trip Are Made

Local Representatives To Waterways Meeting Will Board Train Here

HOPE TO HAVE OVER HUNDRED IN PARTY

Will Depart Sunday Evening For Important Convention On River Improvements

Announcement of the arrangements for the special train to St. Louis, which will convey local representatives to the Mississippi Valley Waterways convention to be held on Monday and Tuesday of next week, were made today by H. S. Warwick, chairman of arrangements for the Beaver, Mahoning and Shenango Rivers association.

The train will be made up in Pittsburgh, leaving that city over the P. & L. E. at 6 o'clock Sunday evening, and will arrive at New Castle Junction, where the local party will board the train at 7:04. The train will depart from Youngstown at 7:30 and will arrive in St. Louis the following morning. Tickets will be sold at the point of departure and a special fare will be available to those making the trip. A dining car and club car will be carried.

Mr. Warwick stated that a block of rooms has been engaged for the Mahoning Valley delegation at the hotel there.

Returning, the train will leave St. Louis at 6:30 Tuesday evening, and will arrive here on the following morning at 8:40.

On Monday morning at 10 o'clock delegates from West Virginia, Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio will assemble at 10:30 in the convention hall, and will elect three representatives to serve on the committee on resolutions and three men to serve on the committee on nominations. Every delegate will be entitled to a vote.

It is expected that close to 100 men will make the trip to St. Louis in the interests of the local waterway project, that many having already signified their intention of attending.

Another local representative was added to the list of those who will attend from this city, D. O. Davies, former city councilman, making the trip as a representative of the South Side Board of Trade.

Sharpville Trains Still In Operation

Service On Line Has Not As Yet Ceased, Word From Sharpville Says

Although abandonment of the Sharpville railroad line from Sharpville to Wilmington junction was to have taken effect on Tuesday, train operations over the road were continuing today.

A representative of the Sharpville road, in a telephone communication here said he could not say when operations will cease. The company operates a passenger train from Sharpville to Wilmington junction, and return, each morning.

The Pennsylvania railroad is expected to acquire the lower portion of the road, extended from the town of New Wilmington south to the junction. However, no definite decision regarding this has been reached.

McBride Post To Handle Toys For Poor Children

Will Establish Toy Mission For Children Of City At Christmas Time

OFFER TO ASSIST EMPLOYMENT BODY

Post Urges Citizens Contemplating Improvements To Make Them Now

Many children of the city who would look for the coming of Santa Claus in vain this Christmas, will be made happy through the efforts of the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, who voted at their meeting last evening to take care of the distribution of toys to those children who might not otherwise receive them.

A toy mission will be established, where citizens of New Castle may bring toys which may have outlived their usefulness and which will be repaired and put in good condition for distribution at Christmas time.

Ralph H. Montgomery was named chairman of a committee to take charge of this activity and a place where such articles can be left will be announced in the near future.

Discuss Unemployment

The post also discussed the present unemployment situation, and went on record as urging all citizens who contemplate improvements of any kind to make them at this time, so that men who are unemployed may be able to help themselves.

The post urges everyone who possibly can do so, to furnish a day's employment to men now out of work. It was felt that there are many little odd jobs about homes of the city which could be offered to men seeking assistance, which would help them to maintain themselves.

The post offered to give any assistance within its power to Mayor Gillespie's Relief Committee of twenty, who are seeking to devise ways and means of aiding the unfortunate of the city during the present crisis.

Non-Skid Mixture Placed On Bridges

Commissioners Put Asphalt And Stone On South Mill And West Washington Bridges

As a result of complaints of accidents due to skidding on the South Mill street and West Washington street bridges, the county commissioners have covered the surface of the driveways with limestone mixed with asphalt. This mixture adheres to the floor of the bridges and it is believed, will do much to prevent accidents. The South Mill St. bridge was particularly dangerous owing to the fact that motorists had to stop on a grade for a traffic light. While no fatalities have so far been reported, numerous machines have been damaged by skidding into the bridge or into other cars.

California Rancher Makes Gruesome Discovery Of Tragedy

(International News Service)
ANTELOPE VALLEY AIRPORT, Calif., Nov. 20.—Bodies of the three occupants of the Pacific transport air mail plane which crashed in the Tehachapi mountains were to be moved to Los Angeles today while an investigation of the crash was begun.

The battered and torn fuselage and wings were found yesterday afternoon on a rolling hillside by Edward Newson, a rancher. The discovery ended a 43 hour search which was participated in by more than thirty airplanes and searchers on foot.

Pilot Flavius A. Donaldson was dead in his cockpit while the bodies of Miss Jean Karkow Smith and George Rogers, two passengers, had been tossed clear of the wreckage. The mail cargo, consisting of several pouches of valuable registered mail, was found intact.

The plane was last heard from Tuesday morning when its radio told that Pilot Donaldson was fighting heavy winds and fog high above the treacherous Tehachapi mountain peaks.

While the raiding of the Temple went forward, a police squad swooped down upon the basement of a building at 515 Third avenue where a quantity of opium valued at $5,000 was seized, police reported. In addition, six opium pipes were confiscated. The opium was found in a secret room which was discovered after a four hour search.

The prisoners arrested gave their names as Yee King, 42, alleged proprietor; Loo King, June Hoo, George Sun, Yee Dip and Sah Yau.

Giant Flying Boat Lands At Santander

German Plane Do-X Enroute To Corunna, Spain, Lands Unexpectedly

(International News Service)
SANTANDER, Spain, Nov. 20.—The giant German flying boat DO-X en route from Bordeaux to Corunna, Spain, landed unexpectedly here today.

The huge craft had left Bordeaux at 10:15 a. m. (5:15 a. m. Eastern Standard Time), planning to fly direct to Corunna, 250 miles further along the Northern Spanish coast than Santander.

The reason for the landing was not learned immediately. The eventual destination of the DO-X was Lisbon, Portugal, where the ship was to remain pending decision concerning its projected trans-Atlantic flight. It was understood the crossing probably would not be made until the spring.

Eighteen Killed By Big Tornado At Bethany, Okla.

MILITIA GUARDS RUINED SECTIONS

One-Hundred Are Injured—Two-Hundred Buildings Razed—Search For Victims

(International News Service)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 20.—Dazed and bewildered by the tornado which hurtled through the suburbs of Bethany killing 18 persons, injuring 100 and razing nearly 200 buildings, what was left of the small religious colony today assisted in searching the ruins for further victims.

Aided by five companies of National Guardsmen who toiled throughout the night under the glare of searchlights, many of the colony's residents today aided in the hunt for injured and possible dead beneath the splintered walls and roofs of what were once their homes.

Militia Called Out

Virtual martial law existed as militiamen guarded the scattered belongings of residents to prevent pilfering. Red Cross relief workers and ambulances from Oklahoma City were kept busy caring for the injured and bringing the dead and seriously injured to morgues and hospitals here.

Of the injured, at least 57 were seriously hurt. Many of these are expected to die, according to physicians who are caring for the victims.

The same twister which leveled a path through Bethany killed its nineteenth victim at Ola, Ark., where several persons were injured.

Advancing from the south, the tornado first struck Camel Creek school house, five miles distant, wrecking the structure and killing

He believes there is a Santa, he has proof that there is one, he can show you gloves and roller skates an auto and a gun. And so he makes his list out of the things he'd like to get and he knows that he will get them when old Santa comes and yet, I am hoping in his listing he will not be over strong for I'd hate to think his faith in old man Santa would be wrong. But if he insist on ordering, a steel mill and a bank, and a car that holds a family and will start without a crank, if he does perhaps old Santa will forget say three or four of the pieces that he's ordered, weather's bright and sixty four.

Strikers Angry At New Mandate

Reading Sheriff Lays Down Strict Mandate To Hosiery Mill Strikers

STRIKERS MUST OBEY ORDERS

(International News Service)
READING, Pa., Nov. 20.—Sheriff Victor Goodhart's mandate that only 25 pickets would be permitted at any of the hosiery mills here and that all of the strikers must remain 50 feet distant from the properties further embittered the 4000 workers in the hosiery strike affecting 29 mills in this district today.

Between 800 and 900 of the strikers appeared at the gigantic Berkshire Mills, but were forced to obey the sheriff's orders.

Despite the assertion of Union leaders that many more would join the strike there appeared to be no increase in the number of strikers today. Instead of the 12,000 to 15,000 expected to walk out only about one fourth of that number are not working. Many of them were forced out when the mills refused to open on Monday after the strike was announced. However, several of the mills affected planned to re-open today.

Extra details of police and state troopers were ordered on duty as time for re-opening of the mills neared for fear further disorders might take place.

With the exception of the arrest of two men, one at the Berkshire and one at the Rosedale Mill, on charges of disorderly conduct, the strike has been peaceful. It is now in its fourth day.

The strike was authorized when the hosiery mills announced their intention of putting into effect a general wage cut.

Theatre Guild Elects Directors

At a meeting of the New Castle Civic Theatre Guild held Wednesday evening the following directors were named to serve for the coming year: Mrs. A. Crawford Hoyt, Robert Cunningham, Mrs. Roy A. Long, Bart Richards, Mrs. Marcus Feuchtwanger, Mrs. Leander Kirk, Mrs. S. D. Pearson and Mrs. P. J. Flaherty.

For reasons of efficiency the office of recording secretary and treasurer were separated, Miss Virginia Cook being elected recording secretary and Samuel Perry treasurer. All accounts from the performance of "This Thing Called Love" were audited Wednesday evening and a check for $53.00 ordered sent to the Margaret Henry Home for Children. This represents the profit on the performances, and at the time of the play it was stated that any profits would go to the home.

You're the JUDGE

The village of Sunboro was getting ready for its annual homecoming. An outdoor pageant was to take place in a large square.

Facing that square was a large structure, the front windows of which looked out upon the square. Mrs. Vera Ferston, the banker's wife suddenly decided to be hostess to a party at the pageant, and it occurred to her to rent one of the rooms in the building facing the square in which to seat her party during the pageant. Mrs. Ferston approached the owner of the building, and after some negotiations he agreed to let her have the largest room facing the square for the duration of the pageant for $50. Mrs. Ferston was so elated that she paid him $25 at once. But on the morning of the day of the pageant a thunderstorm broke. The storm continued all day. The pageant had to be abandoned. The following day Mrs. Ferston asked the owner of the building for the return of her $25. But this the owner could not see. Instead, he demanded the balance of the $50 rental price. Both fled suits.

How would you decide this case? Make up your mind before you read the decision. (Decision will be found on classified page.)

first-class mail as the post office reports. I have suggested that one-half of all post office expense be charged against first-class mail because it is the primary service of the department.

"Even on that basis the rate in first-class mail brings in revenue to meet the expense of handling it.

Deficit Predicted
"The two-cent rate on letters was fixed in 1883. It is astounding that 47 years afterwards, with the unit cost of handling mail decreasing, we should now be considering an increase in the rate. Increasing the volume of mail is a far better way of raising revenue.

"I do not believe Congress will act favorably upon the recommendation for the increase.

"We now have bills pending which will bring $5,000,000 additional revenue to the department through directory service, money order charges and similar minor changes in the department."

Kelly is author of the postal policy law enacted by Congress under which the annual expense of $40,000,000 for handling government mail free is not included in the deficit.

Excluding this, the department predicts a $55,000,000 deficit for the year 1930.

opolizing of the street by parked autos. At least one side parking should be prohibited.

Pa New is unable to understand why so many people on sidewalks from a street car, start around in front of it immediately to cross the street. It seems to us that safety first demands that person step back and wait until the car passes.

Flooring of the South Mill street bridge has been covered with a lime-stone coating that has been forced into the wood blocks. This should prove a big improvement in the way of traffic safety. The wooden blocks on bridges are exceptionally slippery.

One week from today is Thanksgiving.

Pa New noticed a Rescue Mission money can on the desk of the local public library, today. If you have any coins in your pocket that you would like to put in a good cause, drop it in the slot in the can.

Believe It or Not!

This morning while Mrs. Tony Latina was dressing a chicken to cook for dinner she came across something so unusual that she immediately called Pa New to tell him about it.

She found two full sized perps hatched inside the hen, with the broken egg shells there to show they had been hatched.

was located without trouble by the speeding liner. Wallowing in the rough of mammoth waves and her decks awash, she was observed at times canting suddenly with a tremendous list as her cargo obviously slid about and shifted.

Only the upper parts of the masts were visible to those on deck of the approaching liner.

On drawing closer, watchers saw the Ovidia hulk until she struck out of the water, with heavy sea crashing over her decks. One engine was still working on the crippled ship as the Mauretania circled alongside. The Mauretania circled around the Ovidia for nearly an hour before those on the cargo steamer abandoned hope of saving their vessel.

The wireless operator who had valiantly stuck to his post summoning rescuers did not leave the wireless room until the last lifeboat was lowered away.

Even as the boats floated clear of the Ovidia and bobbed like huge corks upon the waves, the mother ship was plainly observed to be sinking fast.

Thrilling Rescue
Cries of "They're gone" were never stifled until the lifeboats bumped safely against the steel plates of the liner and were held fast by eager hands. First to clamber aboard was Mrs. Carlsson, followed by a member of the crew who carried the ship's cat.

The last view of the Ovidia came as the Mauretania steamed slowly back into her course. The cargo ship, bowing and dipping in the sea, was soon to disappear from view.

Captain Carlsson of the Ovidia summed up the incident as follows: "Thank God we were on the track of big life. All night on the motion of the ship was uneasy. Unlike herself, she developed a very heavy list to the starboard. We then found water in the number 2 hold, along about midnight when the deck cargo, two heavy ton baulks of timber, shifted we decided to send out an SOS later prospects grew hopeless and we gave a great sigh of relief when the smoke of the Mauretania showed over the horizon."

Route To Swamp Given By Hanlon

Motor Club Secretary Routes Autoists Looking For Sheakleyville "Fill"

One of the most common requests for route information in the office of the New Castle Motor club at the present time is that for information to the swamp on the Perry highway, north of Sheakleyville.

The swamp is located between Sheakleyville and Custard, according to B. N. Hanlon, manager of the New Castle Motor club, and the best way to reach it is to go from here to Harlanburg, thence over the Perry highway to Mercer, and then to Sandy Lake. At Sandy Lake turn left onto the Greenville road, route 65, and go beyond Clarks Mills, turning right onto the Perry highway. This road is improved to Sheakleyville.

Route 19, the Perry highway, is not finished between Mercer and a point this side of Sheakleyville. The swamp is a point of interest at the present time, thousands of visitors going there to see the swamp that has swallowed many carloads of slag, one truck and is causing the highway department no end of trouble.

STAR LORE STARS CLASSIFIED BY THEIR COLOR

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter
I want all my amateur astronomer readers to become acquainted with something that will give them a greater enjoyment of the heavens and that is the Henry Draper Classification of the stars—just one part of it, viz: the conspicuous differences in the color of the stars: The bluish-white star belongs to Class O and B; white stars belong to class A; yellow stars to class G; orange to class K; and red, to class M. Rigel is a B star; in fact it is a B8 star which means that Rigel is nearer like an A (white) star than a B0 (zero) which would be a pure B star. If you look at the conspicuous stars in Orion, they are bluish-white except Betelgeuse—an M.

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. T. W. Greer.
Mrs. Marie Shinn Greer, aged 41, wife of T. W. Greer, died at her home in Carnegie, Pa., Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock after an illness due to complications. Mrs. Greer was well and favorably known in the seventh ward district of the city, where she had visited frequently with her aunt and uncle, Mrs. George Meyer and William Osborne, and the news of her death comes as a shock to all who knew her.

Adding to the sadness of the occasion is the fact that her mother, Mrs. W. H. Shinn of Lake Alfred, Florida, only recently returned to her home after a serious operation and is in poor health.

Mrs. Greer was a member of the Presbyterian church and the Eastern Star. She leaves her husband, three children, Billie, Ruth Inez and Betty Lou, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Shinn of Lake Alfred, Florida and one brother Charles Shinn. The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

Mrs. Taggart Funeral
Funeral service for Mrs. Alma Updegraff Taggart, 35 Erskine avenue, R. D. 4, Youngstown, O., were held from the family residence on Wednesday afternoon, with Rev. Frank G. Sayers, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating.

The house was filled with beautiful floral tributes, showing the sympathy of many friends in this hour of sorrow.

Interment was made in Lake Park mausoleum, with C. Hugh Blair, Charles Wetmore, Charles Shingledecker, Harvey Schultz and Harold A. Shaffer as pallbearers.

Mont Oliphant Funeral
Funeral services for Mont Oliphant Jr., were held from the family home on Hartman street Wednesday afternoon with Rev. E. R. Dodd officiating, assisted by Rev. W. H. Armstrong of the Wesleyan Methodist church.

Flower bearers were Bertha Kennedy, Harriet Hiler, Bessie Oliphant and Mabel Wood.

Interment was made in Oak Park cemetery with John Warnock, Harry Smiley, William Smiley, Charles Walters, Benjamin Kennedy and Howard Oliphant as pallbearers.

Alexander Iodice Funeral
Solemn High mass was celebrated this morning at 9:30 in St. Vitus church for Alexander Iodice, South Jefferson street, with Rev. Fr. Demita as celebrant, Rev. Fr. Ippolito deacon and Rev. Fr. Donatella, sub deacon.

Interment was made in St. Vitus cemetery with Rev. Fr. Demita performing the committal rites. Pallbearers were Louis, Anthony, Ludwig, Hugo and Marcellino Ciazza and Louis Laganese, nephews of the deceased.

Toll Is Mounting.
OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 20.—A heavy toll of life and property was taken by a series of tornadoes which yesterday and last night singled out small communities in Oklahoma, Kansas and Arkansas. Latest reports showed twenty persons were killed and approximately 130 injured. Combined property damage amounted to approximately $1,000,000.

At Bethany, Okla., a suburb of Oklahoma City, eighteen persons lost their lives and 100 were injured when a cyclonic twister of two minute duration wiped out the eastern half of the little town.

Four of the dead were pupils of the Camel Creek school which was lifted by the twister and crashed to the ground a mass of wreckage.

the rapid building program which is of such vital importance in the stabilization of employment and business.

Inspection tours of state roads as guests of the Pennsylvania department of highways were to close this afternoon. A considerable part of the convention has been devoted to studying a comprehensive road building program designed to aid the unemployment situation.

Outstanding resolutions passed at the convention included one asking that "a substantial emergency federal appropriation be expended under the existing federal highway legislation," and an additional "substantial emergency fund" to be advanced by the federal government to the state to be used in matching the federal funds and later to be repaid by the states.

Henry H. Blood, chairman of the Utah state highway commission, was elected president of the association to succeed Eckel.

Bradford Boy Is Given Award In District Court

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 20.—Glenn Reichell, Jr., seven year old Bradford lad, today was awarded $1,850 in a sealed verdict returned in United States district court here for injuries suffered in Bradford when legally struck by a bicycle pedaled by a Western Union messenger.

Suit for $50,000 had been brought against the company by the father, Glenn Reichell Sr., the latter was awarded damages of $650.

The accident, according to testimony, occurred when the Reichell boy was struck by a bicycle which leaped over the curb striking the victim as he walked along the pavement.

Attorney Charles A. Margiotti represented the plaintiff. The case was heard by Federal Judge J. Schoonmaker.

NEW BEDFORD FOLKS MARRIED SIXTY YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Clark of New Bedford, former pioneer residents of West Middlesex will celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary on November 29.

The event will be marked by a reception for friends from 2 to 4 o'clock Saturday, November 29, in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Ellis Harry of New Bedford.

At high noon, November 29, 1870, the termination of a lovely romance took place when Alice M. Edeburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Edeburn, the belle of West Middlesex, became the bride of J. W. Clark. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Standeas, then pastor of the United Presbyterian church of that place.

To this union ten children were born. The first four passed away in childhood. The remaining members of the family are: Mrs. Mary Deenaut of Warren, Ohio, Mrs. Nettie Harry of New Bedford, Mrs. Grace Patterson, Mrs. Fern Nordquist and Harry Clark of Youngstown, Ohio, and Robert Clark of Stambaugh avenue, Sharon. There are thirteen grandchildren and one great grandchild.

For many years, Mr. and Mrs. Clark resided on a farm near New Bedford, but recently they sold their country home and purchased a residence in New Bedford. Mrs. Clark is 81 years and Mrs. Clark is 79 years old and both are enjoying good health. Mrs. Clark is the oldest member of the Methodist Episcopal church in New Bedford and is active in church work.

F. and L. Club Meets

Associates of the F. and L. Club assembled at the home of Mrs. G. B. Hoagland on Temple avenue, Wednesday afternoon and as special guests, the ladies had Mrs. B. Clark and Miss Sylvia Fisher. Music and games were pastimes, and at a selected hour a delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

In two weeks the members will enjoy the hospitality of Mrs. P. B. Comstock who will entertain at the home of Mrs. George Gray on Adams street.

MEN'S BIBLE CLASS VISITS AT BEAVER

Twenty-two members of the Men's Bible class of the Central Christian church motored to Beaver Tuesday evening, at the invitation of the W. S. Kidd class of the First Christian church of that city.

An enjoyable dinner was served the men and a splendid program of after dinner music and speaking was given with George Massey, Beaver Falls as the guest speaker.

W. S. Kidd class had won the contest being waged among 19 men's classes of the Christian churches throughout the district and boosted their membership from 14 to 120 in less than a year, and about two months ago the local church entertained the class at a dinner and the Tuesday evening dinner was a return courtesy.

Linger Longer Club

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kerr, Maple street, were hosts Wednesday evening to the members of the Linger Longer Club for their regular session.

Thanksgiving decorations were used throughout the home, a feast added by the artistic placing of "mums" in beautiful shades.

Four tables of 500 occupied the evening hours and at conclusion of play the prizes for high score were awarded Leroy Hughes and Mrs. S. G. Lago. Mrs. T. E. Dukes being awarded the consolation.

Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Vincent and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Orr were special guests.

Plans were made for a Christmas dinner but a definite date was not set for the event.

A delicious repast was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Wayne Orr, dainty appointments being carried out in Thanksgiving suggestions.

Convention Club

Members of the Convention Club met at the home of Mrs. Benjamin Dean on Pearson street Tuesday afternoon for their social time.

Mrs. William Cronwell as hostess. Cards occupied the leisure hours, and the favors were won by Mrs. John Finnegan and Mrs. Edward Ansel for honors. Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Pattie Beman at the conclusion of play.

This evening the regular meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. Homer Pence on Fairmont avenue.

B. C. Club Meets

Mrs. R. A. Bailey Jr. proved a pleasing hostess Wednesday afternoon when she entertained at a prettily appointed one o'clock luncheon members of the B. C. Club. Following the serving of a delicious menu the guests played a game of bridge and the prizes for honors were won by Mrs. Arthur Sisley and Mrs. Maurice Nielsen.

On Wednesday, Nov. 26, the members will meet with Mrs. Roy Evans on South Mill street.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY HONORED WEDNESDAY

A social event of interest occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Badger who reside on East Washington street, when a group of 25 guests gathered to honor them, the occasion being their 28th wedding anniversary.

Several who were present at the wedding on November 19, 1902, participated at this time, who were Mrs. Etta Weinschenk, who served as maid of honor, and Sammie Badger who acted as best man. Others included Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weinschenk, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Reed, Mr. and Mrs. William Badger, Mrs. Viola Thompson, Mrs. Sarah Wright and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Badger.

Rev. and Mrs. Bloomquist from the Savannah church were special guests, and the former delivered a talk appropriate to the occasion. Games of various sorts and radio music were pastimes of the social hours and at the close of the evening an appetizing lunch was served by Mrs. Badger, assisted by Mrs. Mary McNicholas and Mrs. Viola Smith. Bouquets of fall flowers were tastefully used in the decoration of the home. A large bouquet of the same formed the attractive centerpiece.

During the evening the honored couple received many beautiful gifts in remembrance of the happy event.

Y. O. A. CLUB HAS MEETING WEDNESDAY

Associates of the Y. O. A. Girls Club gathered at the home of Mrs. Frank Johnston on Court street on Wednesday evening with a good number in attendance. The hours were whiled away informally and at a selected time the hostess served a dainty lunch. She was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Frank Clinefelter, in serving.

The next regular meeting will be an event of Wednesday, Dec. 3, at the home of Mrs. Milton Marshall on North Walnut street.

FELLOWSHIP DINNER TO BE SOCIAL EVENT

Of interest to all members of the Central Christian church will be the fact that Rev. Jesse Porter, pastor of the church, is in receipt of word today that George Massey of Beaver Falls has accepted the invitation to be the after dinner speaker at the fellowship dinner which is being held in the church dining room Friday evening.

Thomas Phelps is in charge of arrangements and the event promises to be one of unusual interest.

METHODIST GUILD PLANS MUSICAL TEA

As the nimble fingers of the ladies of the Guild of the First Methodist church plied through the sewing and quilting which they did on Wednesday in the church parlors, plans were talked over for the musical tea they are having December 4 at the parsonage, Glenmore boulevard.

Mrs. W. L. Beal, president of the Guild, is appointing her committee and arranging for a flawlessly delightful afternoon.

1927 Bridge Club
Members of the 1927 Bridge Club were pleasantly entertained Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Dale Clark on the Wilmington road when they gathered for their regular meeting. Two tables of cards were in play as the main diversion, and at the conclusion of the feature a dainty repast was served by the hostess. She was assisted in serving by Mrs. Lee Davids.

During the business session, plans were completed for their annual Christmas party which will be held at the home of Samuel Frank. The date has not been definitely decided as yet.

In two weeks the members will gather at the home of Mrs. Lee Davids on Euclid avenue for their regular meeting.

The Sawalla Club will be received this evening in the home of Mrs. Harry Shaffer, Morton street.

TEMPLE ISRAEL SISTERHOOD MEETS

The Temple Israel Sisterhood held their regular monthly meeting at the temple Wednesday with their president, Mrs. Norman Ehrlich, presiding. After the meeting had been opened in due form, the business transactions were under way.

Interesting reports were heard from the various chairmen, and discussions were held. At this time many letters that have been received from the delegates who attended the Sisterhood convention which convened here at the Castleton in October, were read, each expressing their appreciation for the hospitality extended them during their stay in New Castle. Also, the president, Mrs. Ehrlich, and Mrs. Marcus Feuchtwanger expressed their thanks for the cooperation shown by all at this time.

The work for the month of December is being planned by team No. 3 and is being looked forward to with much enthusiasm.

This evening the Sisterhood will serve dinner in the temple at 6:30 o'clock for members and friends.

Conn, Harry Millin, David Tucker, Roy Irwin, Mrs. Thomas Cowles and Mrs. Flora Cunningham, served delicious refreshments. The dining room was attractively decorated for the occasion.

ORGAN RECITAL AT TRINITY CHURCH

The organ in Trinity church after many years of service has been torn down, overhauled, revoiced and new parts added until it appears in its present condition, a better instrument than it was originally.

On Sunday evening, November 23 at 7:30 o'clock an organ recital will be given by Paul Browne Patterson, organist and choir master of Trinity church.

A feature of the program will be an original composition written for this occasion by Mr. Patterson to bring out all the various qualities of the organ.

Mrs. Fred S. Emery, violinist will add variety to the program by playing two modern violin numbers with organ accompaniment.

WILL HAVE PARTY AT ELKS CLUB

A sumptuous 1 o'clock chicken luncheon was served members of the Modern Priscilla Club when they were the guests of Mrs. L. B. Round at Mrs. Burnside's Wednesday afternoon. Thanksgiving appointments were attractively carried out in the table decorations, and favors in keeping with the same were found at each place, ten in number.

After the serving, the ladies enjoyed a period of bridge with the trophy for high honors being awarded to Mrs. John Leonardson. Toward the close of the afternoon, a brief business session was held when plans were made for a Christmas party which will be held at the Elks Club, the date to be announced in the near future.

FINANCING EMPLOYMENT PROJECTS

SUCH an avalanche of comment has reached the editor following the suggestions of a day or so ago in these columns concerning practical suggestions for relief of unemployment here that we are convinced that the projected plan is one that is feasible and would meet with widespread favor.

There are many other minor improvements, or jobs of a similar nature that could be added to our list, suggested by numerous individuals, that need not be enumerated here.

Suffice it to say that it seems from the reaction that a workable plan for aid of the unemployed has been suggested.

Now the question is to get it into action.

Financing the movement is the chief problem. There seems to be one way that would not add greatly to the burden of the tax payers next year, and that is by the city and county both floating small bond issues to meet the need for funds in the emergency.

True, the city has $70,000 realized from the sale of the municipal conduit. But it is not our idea that this fund should be permanently used in this emergency. It should be used for permanent improvements during the coming year. However, pending the time that funds are realized by the sale of bonds by the city, money from this fund could be borrowed temporarily in order that the projected relief plan could be financed immediately.

An emergency exists that demands more than discussion. IF YOU KNOW A BETTER PLAN LET'S HEAR IT, BUT LET'S GET SOME ACTION STARTED!

HERE AND THERE IS LOCAL NEWS

WITH the enormous sum of $328,000 in cash to be distributed to New Castle citizens by the banks in the Christmas Savings funds within the next two weeks, there should be some noticeable results in many lines. Certainly shows that somebody in the city was saving during the year, and the fact that the fund is about as large as the year before is an evidence that the depression didn't cause many to give up this thrift project.

New Castle's year round community area is getting wider and wider. With the Perry highway in the eastern end of the county completed a large section there will have access to this city the year round, and the opening of the road from Elliott's Mills to Plaingrove, further out, gives that district easy access to New Castle at all times. We congratulate the folks of Plaingrove in getting out of the mud. The highway should be improved further in the near future.

Outside the discussion of the merits of the pension plans suggested, it appears to us that some pension arrangement should be completed shortly in this city whereby four officers on the police force who are over 70 years would be retired. Police work is not what we would call adaptable for a man over 70 years of age.

Out on the hillside just beyond the end of Highland avenue, a large residential community is growing up. There must be forty or fifty houses sprinkled over the district. It is our suggestion that these residents get together, agree upon a fitting name for the district, and then begin a campaign of education to have the name used, and banish the designation of the district as "Coaltown." It doesn't fit that community.

Announcement that final exams have been banished at the senior high school this year as an experiment, seems to us to reflect a progressive trend to educational affairs at the school. Instead of the final examinations, periodic examinations will be given during the year. The final examination plan never did appeal to us as one that was justice to all students or teachers.

New Castle's delegation that is going to the Waterways conference at St. Louis, next week is increasing. This city is going to send a sizeable delegation to that meeting to work for the improvement of the Beaver, Mahoning and Shenango rivers for barge freight service. Youngstown and other places in the district are also going to be largely represented. This river improvement project is getting under way in a manner that seems to augur for some real developments.

With North street, from East to Neshannock widened, repaved, and open for traffic, it will not be long now until it will be discovered how extensive relief to the traffic jams at the East Washington street bridge will be provided by the new bridge. There never has been a real test heretofore, because North street was most uninviting to traffic between East and Neshannock.

A word to the young married persons:

What young couple are you watching as an example in your life?

Those who start out to take up life's burdens together are usually associated with other young couples who are beginning at the same time. In choosing a course of action as homekeepers are you entirely dependent upon what your friends do?

If you are wise, you will not spend so much time trying to find out what the other couples problems as you will trying to solve your own. No two incomes are identical. Wages or salary may be the same, but each couple is subject to aids or hindrances—drains on the income which cannot be readily estimated at first. That is why it is a good thing to proceed slowly. Some young folks, actually get nervous when they realize that they have a little money ahead. How to spend it immediately is the question. They can't be wise and live along, putting in the bank and letting it stay there, because Mr. So and So gave his wife, or Mrs. Some Other Name entertained her card club so lavishly. Thus savings vanish. It is the early nest egg, left undisturbed that makes the big income later.

DO YOU REMEMBER THESE?

"Snapper" Garrison is dead. He rode horses, won races, years ago. Hardly anyone knew he was still alive. But his name has been living and will linger for many years. . . . You've heard of a "Garrison finish." Garrison is the jockey who made that phrase possible. He did more than win races. He liked to come from behind and win them. He'd hold his horse back until the final stretch and then come tearing past to win.

So his name joins other names that are part of our common language. Names like Mesmer, the doctor who invented the phrase "animal magnetism" and treated the sick with mesmerism. . . . Like Boycott, for the English captain who angered the Irish people long ago and roused them to the first boycott. . . . Like Dr. Guillotin, who suggested a machine for cutting off the heads of the French people. . . . Like Louis Jacques Danton, first to make "dauverrois" by sunlight. . . . Like Sylvester Graham, that American vegetarian who advocated bread made from unbolted flour and gave us graham bread. . . . And Samuel Pilsnol, who gave us the "pilsnol" line on ships to prevent their overloading. . . . And even Steve Brodie, symbol of the man who took a chance.

Our minds and memories are grab-bags of this and that, of legends and heroes from the past. They teach us things in school, we forget almost all that we study, and remember the oddities. The boy who stood on the burning desk, that other lad who cried "Wolf!" once too often, the Dutch youngster who held the dike all night, the Spartan boy with a fox in his vitals, the bold navigator who said "Sail on! Sail on!" Horatius holding the bridge.

The Roman matron who put her arms about her children and cried "These are my jewels!" the brave little red hen who asked, "Now who will EAT this bread?" the buttercup who was scolded by the robin for envying the daisy, that maiden who would not let the curfew ring, Barbara Fritchie of the "old gray head," Alexander who cut the Gordian knot, and Icarus who flew too close to the sun and lost his wings. We remember these and forget the rest.

There's a natural wisdom in life and it does not change much with the years. New phrases come into existence, new schools of thought arise, we use ideas like "behaviorism" and "psychoanalysis" and "psychology" and "inferiority complexes"—but the real rulers of our lives are the fables and heroes of our childhood. Isn't it so?

Times are bad," said neighbor Whiffen, "and I don't know when they'll mend."

I have a little money, but I do not dare to spend.

So many men are out of work and everyone is blue.

I was going to buy another suit, but I'll make the old one do.

Said Neighbor Spiffen: "You are right."

The outlook very bad. I should have bought an overcoat. It's time that one I had.

And I was on my way to town to purchase one but I have decided since I met you for the present not to buy."

Went Whiffen and went Spiffen with their faces long and black. Both wondering in sadness when good times are coming back.

And they whispered very dolefully along their dreary groove:

"We're afraid to spend a dollar and we won't till times improve."

Every time I meet the Whiffens and the Spiffens I could weep.

For instead of helping business they are making matters worse.

And I make this one prediction: there'll be hungry men to feed.

Till the Whiffens and the Spiffens start to buy the things they need.

Bi-Partisan Co-Operation Produces Political Debate

Protest Of Senator Glass, Following Truce Between Democratic And Republican Leaders, Results In Wide Discussion Of Meaning Of Election

Benefits to be derived from co-operation in Congress between Republicans and Democrats are recognized in much of the comment which has resulted from the exchange of statements, but following the protest by Senator Glass there has been debate as to the meaning of the last election, and the mandate to the Democratic party as a result of its gains in legislative seats. Emphasis is placed on the need of means the emergency which, it is admitted, exists.

"Quite appropriate to the season which brings Armistice Day," says the SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE, "are the pledges by which the Republican and Democratic leaders commit their parties to a political armistice for the good of the nation. Quite appropriate to the needs of the hour is such an armistice." The CHRONICLE believes that if the leaders "hold earnestly to their pledges" it will "greatly accelerate the eventual triumph of the American spirit and America's resources over depression and its attendant distress."

The TEXARKANA GAZETTE adds that "the nation expects the Republicans to provide their share of the co-operation," and the ST. LOUIS GLOBE-DEMOCRAT holds that these leaders "clearly have all realized that co-operation is the only way to effective service in the extraordinary circumstances that will exist."

"Republican and Democratic obligations are the same," advises the ROCHESTER TIMES-UNION, "and failure to discharge them in these depressing times will be 'no rocking of the boat'—the continued battle for political control of the next Congress that might hinder America's recovery from the depression," but adds that the task of the Democrats will be "to guard the people against legislation like the last tariff act." The ANN ARBOR DAILY NEWS suggests that "may be Mr. Hoover with the help of the co-operating Democrats, will get somewhere" with adherence to the World Court.

That the Democratic party will gain by this declaration is the opinion of the ST. LOUIS TIMES, the NEW ORLEANS TIMES-PICAYUNE and the SCRANTON TIMES. That it is in the interest of the public welfare is argued by the OKLAHOMA CITY OKLAHOMAN, the LOUISVILLE TIMES, the SAN ANTONIO EXPRESS, the SEATTLE HERALD, the SYRACUSE HERALD, the CLEVELAND NEWS, the LEXINGTON LEADER and the ROCK ISLAND ARGUS.

"An obstructionist course would be a violation of the trust placed in them," is the conclusion of the INDIANAPOLIS STAR, while the DAYTON DAILY NEWS calls it "a creditable box-tossing party."

The CHARLOTTE OBSERVER holds that "the task in hand is not a party job."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

WHITE HOUSE COSTS
The cost of maintaining the White House at Washington averages about $135,000 a year. Uncle Sam pays the entire bill except the cost of "setting the table" which comes out of the President's pocket. The fact is $75,000 a year is a very small salary for a President to contemplate if he does much entertaining in Washington.

There are seventy-seven employees to care for the White House and look after the President's comfort and convenience. He has three secretaries who receive $10,000 each. A division chief gets $3,400, besides there is a manager at $3,000, first gardener at $2,400, second gardener at $1,800, chief cook $1,920, footman at $1,320 each, pantryman at $1,200, and two messengers at $1,200 each. The laundress receives $900, the maid $920, and seventeen employees classed as "temporary" $1,200 each.

Among the items of expense in maintaining the White House last year were these: Coal $3,375; gas $1,135; wearing apparel and sewing supplies $1,410; ice $215; electricity $215; furniture replacement $5,000; repairs and alterations $3,824.

Abe Martin

Ever now and then I run on to an almost forgotten face and find that they're back again within their income.

Wouldn't it be fine if a word to the wives was sufficient?

Clearly Mr. Glass wants to dis-tribe, and to disturb severely, the new tariff law," charges the WORCESTER TELEGRAM. "Since he regards it as infamous, he is certainly under no obligation to seek to retain it unmodified. Nevertheless it is far easier to attack a tariff law than it is to propose a substitute measure which would be clearly superior and which would receive strong support either in Congress or outside Mr. Glass fails to give the remotest hint as to the way in which he would revise the Hawley-Smoot measure if he had the power."

Whether the leaders of the two parties can hold the members to the truce in the judgement of the NEWARK EVENING NEWS, "is a speculation." That paper continues: "But Mr. Hoover's statement that fear of delay or filibuster is without foundation indicates that enough Republicans who want to go along with Mr. Hoover and enough Democrats of the same true will coalesce to form a workable majority. The results of such a combination are purely speculative, yet its potentialities are as great as anything this generation has witnessed. The immediate effect would be to take the balance of power from the Insurgents."

The Democratic statement is viewed by the SOUTH BEND TRIBUNE as "a collection of generalities which can be ignored by Democrats in Congress." The LITTLE ROCK ARKANSAS DEMOCRAT agrees that the declaration is regarded as "meaning that there will be 'no rocking of the boat'—the continued battle for political control of the next Congress that might hinder America's recovery from the depression," but adds that the task of the Democrats will be "to guard the people against legislation like the last tariff act."

The ANN ARBOR DAILY NEWS suggests that "may be Mr. Hoover with the help of the co-operating Democrats, will get somewhere" with adherence to the World Court.

That the Democratic party will gain by this declaration is the opinion of the ST. LOUIS TIMES, the NEW ORLEANS TIMES-PICAYUNE and the SCRANTON TIMES. Open Grove City
Dormitory BidsTwelve Contractors Submit Estimates On New $250,- 000 ProjectDELAY ANNOUNCING CONTRACT WINNER

President Weir C. Ketter of Grove City College, with Architect W. G. Eckles of this city, at a special meeting in the college town Wednesday afternoon, opened the bids submitted by 12 contractors for the construction of a new $250,000 boys' dormitory on the campus there.

Mr. Eckles this morning declared that no contract would be awarded for several days, or until President Ketter returns from Philadelphia where he went today to confer with J. Howard Pew, president of the Sun Oil Company and chairman of the college's building committee.

The project for which bids were opened will be 200 feet in width and 50 feet in depth and will accommodate 100 boys. The first floor dining room will have a capacity of 250 boys.

Two other new buildings, a science hall and a chapel, are now in the process of erection, and it is believed other new units may be authorized by the board some time later. The buildings now under way represent an expenditure of $500,000.

Dr. Ketter, Mr. Eckles explained, is conferring with Chairman Pew regarding the final selection of a dormitory contractor, owing to the fact that the latter was unable to come West for the meeting yesterday.

Announcement of the successful bidder will be made, probably Monday.

H. and B. H. Club

Miss Helen Clark entertained the H. and B. H. Club members in her home on the Mt. Jackson road Wednesday, with a full number being present. Cards formed the chief diversion and novel prizes were awarded to the winners. Later the guests were invited into the dining room, where they were served a dainty repast by the hostess. Pink and white tones were carried out in the serving.

During the business session names were drawn for the exchange of Christmas gifts.

In three weeks Mrs. J. E. Westman of the Mt. Jackson road will be hostess. This meeting will be featured with a six o'clock tureen dinner.

Club Meets

Mrs. L. A. Sowash of Garfield avenue entertained in a delightful manner, members of the Jolly Eight Club, Wednesday, having as special visitors, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Burr.

Three tables of 500 were in progress as the chief pastime, and at the conclusion of play, the trophies for honors were awarded to Mrs. R. P. Middleton and Dick Bassinger. Mrs. H. M. Burr received the guest of honor. A tempting lunch was served at the close of play by the hostess assisted by Mrs. D. N. Reno and Mrs. Scott Baker.

The members will meet again in two weeks, the place to be announced later.

G. K. W. Club

The G. K. W. Club members entertained Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Paul Bratschie on Laurel boulevard when they gathered for their usual social time. Music and sewing were enjoyed as the diversions. After the social hour, the guests were served a tasty lunch by the hostess who was assisted by her daughter Barbara and Mrs. Thomas Boston. Dainty hues of pink and white were used in the appointments.

Mrs. Clyde Barry of Greenwood avenue will entertain in two weeks at her home.

A. L. C. 500 Club

Miss Mary Eagan of West Washington street was hostess to the A. L. C. 500 Club members in her home Wednesday. Cards were in play and lovely favors for honors were won by Mrs. James Eagan and Miss Winifred O'Connor. At the close of the game the hostess served a dainty lunch, being assisted by her sister, Miss Anne.

In two weeks Mrs. P. Thornton of Boyles avenue will entertain the club.

Amerita Club News

Members of the Amerita Club were entertained at the home of Mrs. Rudolph Egizi on Wall street Wednesday. An informal social hour was enjoyed and dainty refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the evening.

ITCHING ENDS WHEN
ZEMO TOUCHES SKIN

—Thousands say. It's wonderful the way soothing, cooling Zemo brings relief to skin which itches and burns. Even in most severe cases, itching disappears almost as soon as Zemo touches the tender and inflamed surface. To draw out local infection and help to clear away unsightly blemishes, we know of nothing better than invisible Zemo. Always keep this family antiseptic on hand. Use it freely. Gets Patent On Cylinder Honer

Fred C. Moser Of East Brook
Granted Patent Rights
On Novel Device

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent
Of The New Castle News.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 20.—
Frederick C. Moser of East Brook has been awarded the patent rights on a novel cylinder honing device.
The United States patent office announces. Moser filed with the office application for the rights on his device February 26, 1929.
The East Brook inventor has been allowed five claims on the honing device which the patent office describes as: In a device for the purpose set forth, the combination of a mandrel having inclined channels spaced thereabout, tool holders correspondingly inclined at their base and engaging within the said channels, a honing tool secured in each of said holders, a sleeve within which the mandrel is slidably fitted and provided with openings through which said tool holders extend into the mandrel channels, and a nut on said spindle cooperating with said sleeve whereby rotative adjustment of said nut effects a longitudinal sliding movement of the sleeve on the spindle and radial adjustment of the tool holders therefrom.
The patent office also announces that Jacob M. London of Butler and George M. Crawford of Ingomar have been granted the patent rights on a coal-loading machine.

Soon To Bring Fish To American Marts By Plane

Fresh Fish From Saskatchewan
Will Be Carried By Fleet Of Four Planes

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent
Of The New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 20.—
Freshly caught fish from the lakes of northern Saskatchewan are soon to be transported by swift airplanes to American markets, according to plans now under way by the Brooks Construction & Transportation company of Prince Albert, the commerce department is advised by Trade Commissioner John A. Embury at Winnipeg.

A fleet of four planes will be used in carrying the Canadian fish into American and Canadian markets.
One of these novel fish carriers has already been delivered and the other three are on order.

Fish caught at Lac la Ronge and Pipstone Lake, approximately 300 miles north of Prince Albert, will be in the Winnipeg market in less than 24 hours, according to the present schedule. From Winnipeg the fish will be carried directly into American markets.

Hitherto it has taken 22 days with horses and 14 days with tractors to get the fish products to a railroad.
These periods will be reduced to 24 hours by this unique air express service.

Religion Reality And Righteousness

Rabbi Menkes To Consider Timely Theme On Friday Evening

We frequently find men and women not connected with any particular church whose conduct in life commands our highest admiration.
On the other hand there may be individuals, prominently affiliated with religious organizations whom we are apt to dub "hypocrites and canting psalm-singers."
Consequently we are confronted with the obvious question: Is religion necessary for righteousness?
Can a man be good and upright even though outside and without any church affiliations? If so of what good is religion?
Pursuant to such questions logic demands that we ask: Will righteousness conduct continue and the progress of civilization be assured, even though religion cease to play its beneficent stream upon the minds and hearts of men?
These questions will be discussed by Rabbi Menkes at the regular Friday evening services at Temple
Israel tomorrow night at 8:00.
The pulpit flowers will be furnished by Mrs. Alexander Nathan Horowitz in loving memory of her husband.
After the services there will be a social hour with Mr. and Mrs. David Silverman acting as hosts.
Saturday morning services at 10:30 a. m.

Peter's Adventures

BUSY IS STILL CALM
By Mrs. Florence Smith Vincent
"It makes me mad" said Peter so suddenly that in spite of her haste Busy halted for a brief second.
"What does?" demanded the Worker Ant.
"The Red Ants!" replied Peter. In spite of her worries Busy chuckled.
"They don't make you any madder than they make me!" said she. "But how did you happen to say such a thing?"
"Oh I was just thinking how happy you Black Ants are in this mill, how well all of you get along together, and now the cruel enemy has to spoil it all! As if there wasn't room enough in the world for everybody!"
"There is, but the Red Ants can't bear to know that any other tribe but their own are prospering," said Busy. "They are greedy, and want to grab everything in sight. For a long while they have envied us our hill, our farm, our cows, our healthy little babies! But that is Red Ant nature and there's no use in expecting it to change. We made a mistake in making our home so near them. Now that they are advancing upon us, the only thing to do is fight until the finish."
"I must say you are cool enough about it," Peter was surprised.
"What's the sense of losing our heads before we have lost?" Busy spoke with her usual good common sense. "What will be, will be. Those of us who are left to tell the tale will mourn for those who are slain in battle. If some of us are taken we shall be sorry, but we shall be good slaves. Hail! Here we are, at the mouth of the tunnel! Crawl in under this root. Boy! Hurry as fast as you can, and before long you should see daylight. So long, Luck be with you!"
Next: "In Self-Defense."

Crippled Children's Week Is Observed

Rex L. Patch Heads Local Committee Interested In Special Work

Figures, showing the great saving possible through the establishment of several convalescent homes throughout the state were announced today by the Pennsylvania Society for Crippled Children, Inc., in connection with the observance of Crippled Children's Week.
With convalescent homes operating in Pennsylvania, the society points out, they can be maintained at a cost ranging from $2.12 to $2.50 a day per child. The cost of operating the home by local hospitals in any community, averages $3.76 a child per day. In private institutions the cost is estimated between $6.50 and $7 per day. The average savings is obvious with the operation of the proposed homes and which project is uppermost in the society's plans.
The society's report cites the convalescent home at Erie, maintained by the Shrine members and individual Shriners of that city, as a model home.
The observance of Crippled Children's Week continues until Saturday night. Rex L. Patch is local chairman for the drive.

Water Used In Wet Pack Nerve Cure

Treatment For Illness Cited By Clendenning Is Simple

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
Pinar said, "The best thing is water, the next is gold."

The use of water in the form of the wet pack is valuable for nervous invalids and those troubled with insomnia. It is also used with good effect in many acute contagious diseases, such as pneumonia, scarlet fever and influenza.

To apply it successfully is not difficult.
The patient should be on a single bed. Over the mattress is spread a rubber sheet. Two large woolen blankets, which reach a foot or more beyond the patient's extremities at the end and to the floor on the sides, are laid over this.

A linen sheet wrung out of water at the temperature of 60 or 70 degrees Fahrenheit (the temperature depending on the severity of the case, and the patient's strength) is placed on the blankets.

The patient is laid on this sheet.
The patient's arms are raised over his head. One side of the sheet is brought over the body and pressed down between the legs. The arms are then lowered and the other side of the sheet is brought over the body and the arms and tucked in snugly at the neck. The blankets are brought over the body and tucked in all around. The patient must be wrapped in the blankets airtight.

The age long prejudice against wet sheets must be overcome before treatment by the wet pack can be carried out. The first reaction after getting in the pack is a disagreeable shivering feeling. The application of cold to the skin, however, soon brings a reaction and the blood vessels of the skin dilate, warming up the moisture in the sheet. Soon a pleasant tonic feeling of languor supervenes.

During the early period of the pack, before the sheet gets warm, there is a continuous interchange between the cool blood at the surface and the warm blood of the interior of the body. This amounts to a massage of the circulatory system and is the secret of the value of the wet pack.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

J. R. "My query is one regarding marriage. Is it considered all right for second cousins to marry? I consider by mother's aunt's children as my second cousins. Is this correct?
Also answer the first question."

Answer: Second cousins and even first cousins marry happily and produce healthy children, so long as the heredity is good. Family diseases, especially mental diseases, tend to be accentuated in the children of such a match. Second cousins are usually considered to be the children in the same generation of first cousins.

amount of money she spent—nothing helped her distressing condition.

Someone suggested Peterson's Ointment to her—she admits she was doubtful but she was so discouraged with this never-ceasing agony she was willing to try anything.

Before Mrs. Henderson had finished her second box of Peterson's the ulcer had completely disappeared—she was overjoyed to think that at last she could enjoy living.

Peterson's Ointment accomplishes these near miracles because it's so powerfully healing. Even one application instantly relieves the pain and soreness of bruises, piles, boils
—a few days treatment entirely banishes pimples, blackheads—even the long standing ones. A 35c box proves it—all drugstores.

GARDNER NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. James McDonald, of the New Castle-Ellwood road had as recent guests, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Raisley, and daughter Betty, and Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Stevenson, all of Butler.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCandless, of the old Pittsburgh road, entertained the former's sister, Mrs. Garmey, and son Leland of Slippery Rock, and a friend, Mrs. Barron, also of that place. Mr. McCandless has been in the hospital nearly three weeks after an operation, but it is hoped he will soon be able to go to his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Yoho, of Baldwin Stop, entertained the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M.
Crawford, of Beaver Falls, and Mrs.
Yoho's sister, and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Dickey and son Jack, of Beaver, all on last Sunday.

Mrs. Mary E. Robertson, of All-quippa came to the funeral of her father, Mr. McCane of the Butler Road, and was a guest at the home of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. W. F.
McCane, where their father made his home.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. King, of Shenango Stop, their son Ernest, and grandson, Jack Gill, all went to Leetsdale last Sunday to visit the families of Mr. King's two brothers, Robert and Charles Groetsinger, of Leetsdale.

Mrs. Clifford Zeigler, of New Castle spent Tuesday afternoon with her husband's sister and family, Mr.
and Mrs. Philip Moore of Gardner play, and the shouts of laughter that echoed up the hill told of the fun that was going on. Seventeen of Ruth's little friends and schoolmates played games until they were tired. Then Mrs. Johnson, and her sister, Miss Selma Benson, served a dainty lunch, here are the names:

Edw. Lou Benson, Marian, and Louise Hay, Helen Walker, Irene and Sally Lou McConahy, Flora, and David Robinson, Gladys Moore, Harriet McGary, Walter Smith,
Bobby Gray, Raymond Shaffer,
Billie Earl, Frederick, and Clifford Robb, Junior Johnson, and the honor guest Ruth Johnson, who received many beautiful and useful gifts.

Special guests, were Mrs. Harold Gray, Mrs. Albert Benson, Mrs. Gene Jeffers.

Last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kneram, daughter Grace, and son, Richard Blair, of Croton avenue in New Castle, came to Gardner to see old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kennedy, of Gardner, entertained Mr. and Mrs.
Paul Shaffer, of Ellwood City, last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Webber, who did live near Edinburg, are now nicely settled in the Locke property at Gardner.

Mrs. Anna Ragocz, of Gardner, entertained her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Szamre, and son Henry, and Alice Jermakowicz, all of New Castle, at dinner last Sunday.

Rev. George I. Grambs, Rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church in New Castle, and of St. Luke's in Ellwood City, preached last Sunday at Gardner chapel, and will preach next Sunday afternoon at 2:45, instead of three o'clock, on account of a meeting to follow the preaching here.

Mrs. Lyle Slater, of Gardner went last Sunday, as a member of the choir, and a member of the Catharine Von Bora, Missionary Society of St. John's Lutheran Church in New Castle, to Chicago. Mr. Duff, the leader of the choir, took the pastor and wife, Rev. and Mrs. F. E. Stough and twenty members of the church to be present at the West Conference, which was held at the Lutheran church at Chicago. There were a number of Missionaries who gave interesting addresses, and the Chicago church provided a bountiful supper.

Kenneth Robb, of Gardner is out of school this week on account of illness, but is recovering nicely.

Elizabeth Group, and her cousin Arthur Palmer, of Princeton spent two days at the home of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Robb, of Gardner.

Charles Benson, and Mr. and Mrs.
Carl R. Johnson, and children, spent Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Benson, of the Harrisburg road.

Pupil, In Hospital Gets Schoolmates' Greeting In Latin

Latin Club Consul's Ability To

Even being a hospital convalescent doesn't always afford one the opportunity to escape certain obligations, or give pupils a chance to miss their Latin translation one George Washington Junior high school pupil would tell you.

Loring "Bud" Gordon has been a patient at the Jameson Memorial recovering from an appendicitis operation. Yesterday he received a letter from his school, and quickly open it.

The Latin club, of which he is consul had sent it. A nice greeting it was all in Latin. However,
"Bud" managed to make out that his schoolmates are anxiously awaiting his return.

Young Gordon is the son of Mr.

Three Held In Death Of Man

Three Men Held By Officials Investigating Killing Result Of Party

BODY OF VICTIM
FOUND IN HOUSE

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 20.—Three men, all of Penosa, a mining community near the West Virginia state line, were under arrest here today in connection with the murder of Thomas Peteras, 38, whose body was found in a house near Avella yesterday.

Peteras, representative of the Hanna Employment Agency of Pittsburgh, had been shot to death with a shot gun found in the house, detectives said.

Those under arrest are Joseph Morel, 41; Frank Weber, 24, and Frank Stron.

Tipped that another suspect probably was implicated, county detective William B. Dinsmore left for a hurried trip into West Virginia early today.

Peteras left Pittsburgh with a group of laborers for a Washington county employer on Tuesday. According to the evidence uncovered, Dinsmore said that Peteras, the three prisoners, and a third man, held a drinking party in the house near Avella and that Peteras was slain yesterday.

The body was discovered late yesterday and arrest of the three men followed immediately although the actual murder, Dinsmore said, probably was committed by the man now sought in West Virginia.

NOTES OF TROOP

103RD CAVALRY
OF NEW CASTLE

Capt. Bintrun said he expects to discharge four men from the troop in the near future. This will make vacancies for men now on the waiting list.

Sergeant Willard Miller started today on the job of clipping the horses at the stables.

No date has been set for the annual federal inspection of the troop. Capt. Richard E. Tallant of Tyrone, instructor of the 104th cavalry, will be the inspecting officer.

Henry H. Robison went on a hunting trip to Butler county on Wednesday.

Troop officers will undertake the extension course in "Combat Principles" at the armory this evening. A good attendance is urged by the commander.

The commander intends to start out today to collect trophies and other awards which will be presented to men who are winners in the numerous contests to be held by the troop in a short time.

The stable caretakers' payroll has been completed.

Miss Anna Bintrun of the Butler road, a niece of the commander, will straighten out the troop's financial report. Miss Bintrun has just completed a business course and the troop job will be her first work.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The managers of the average well-dressed New York theatre audience would lead you to believe that a majority of them had been born with silver knives in their mouths.

"THE RIGHT THING"

One of the astonishing things about the average, well-dressed and apparently educated New York theatre audience is its lack of breeding. Men and women who give every evidence of knowing "what forks to use" comport themselves like hoodlums the instant they step inside a playhouse. Their psychology is that of the Noddy Passenger on the Owl Car.

WHAT THE TICKET MEANS

This sort of thing makes theatre-going in Tammany Town a hardship.

When you've gone to the trouble of hustling through dinner and the traffic in the theatre district around show-time to be on time for the performance, and you're comfortably seated and the curtain has gone up, it's a little "trying" to have some broad-shouldered Willie in evening clothes, and his female consort, come hustling in, breathing the air of the speakeasy, piling over you on their way to their seats.

After all, the mere possession of a pair of theatre tickets doesn't carry the right to disrupt the peace and comfort of a showhouse full of people.

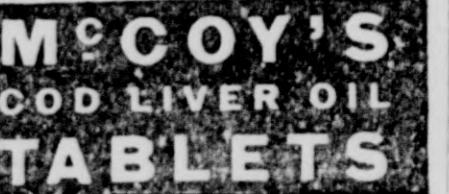

VANISHING GLORY

The only way to cure ill-bred people who arrive late at the theatre

TASTELESS TABLETS

BUILD UP TIRED
NERVOUS PEOPLE

Tired, nervous, and run down? Cod liver oil will quickly give you new vigor, robust health. And now you can take cod liver oil in McCoy's tasteless tablets. McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets give you all the vitamins, all the healthful properties of finest Norway liquid cod liver oil—but without that nasty fishy taste. Doctors everywhere have been quick to recommend them. The famous Good Housekeeping Institute has given them full approval. So get a box of McCoy's from your druggist today, and start building up weight and resistance to colds.

ODDS IN HIS FAVOR

A lad named Hardcastle Pennock inserts the following add in a current issue of a weekly magazine: "Do You Love Your Relatives? John Craig and I have written a play about relatives. We call the play THE BARNACLES. . . . Theatrical managers admit that it is well written, interesting, producible—in fact, a darn good play; but they're afraid to get mixed up in it. . . . A New York production of this play wouldn't cost much and if you have a sense of humor, a good-natured grudge against relatives and a little money, here's your chance for some fun and, who knows?—it might show profits. Write, phone or come running over!"

Why not? Rehearse the long list of successes that were hawked up and down Broadway and turned down by theatrical managers before they finally got a try-out and you'll realize that the odds are in favor of Brother Pennock.

Anyway, here's hoping that The Lad's ship comes in, goes into dry dock, and that some day we all get a squirt at THE BARNACLES.

Building Wall In North Street

North Side Of Thoroughfare Continues To Be Scene Of Activity

Although repaving of North street between East street and Neshannock avenue has been finished and the thoroughfare has been thrown open to traffic, workmen are yet engaged in the construction of a retaining wall and sidewalks east of Quest street. When the project is entirely completed the cost will be approximately $24,000.

More than a year ago city council decided to repave North street and set August 1 as the date operations were to start. It was decided later that the street would be widened. North street sanitary sewer was repaired and a new storm sewer to conform to the plans of Fuller & McClintock was laid to connect at East street. The thoroughfare was widened two and one-half feet on each side.

After a concrete base was laid brick was used as the top and the sidewalks were then repaired or new ones laid where needed. Most of the new sidewalks are on the north side of the street, from Quest street east to Neshannock avenue.

It was deemed feasible by city council to have a retaining wall erected and the wall has not yet been finished. Not all of the sidewalks on the north side are being used by pedestrians as the cement has not set long enough.

There are barriers on the north side of the street to slow up traffic so workmen can do their work in safety. The south side of the street, however, is being used by pedestrians but the sidewalk has been cut to about two feet width at the intersection of Neshannock avenue.

It is indicated that the city and owner of the property may engage in court action as part of the building protrudes into the street. It is believed the city police will make some effort to keep the thoroughfare from being converted into a public parking place. Yesterday cars were parked on both sides of the street.

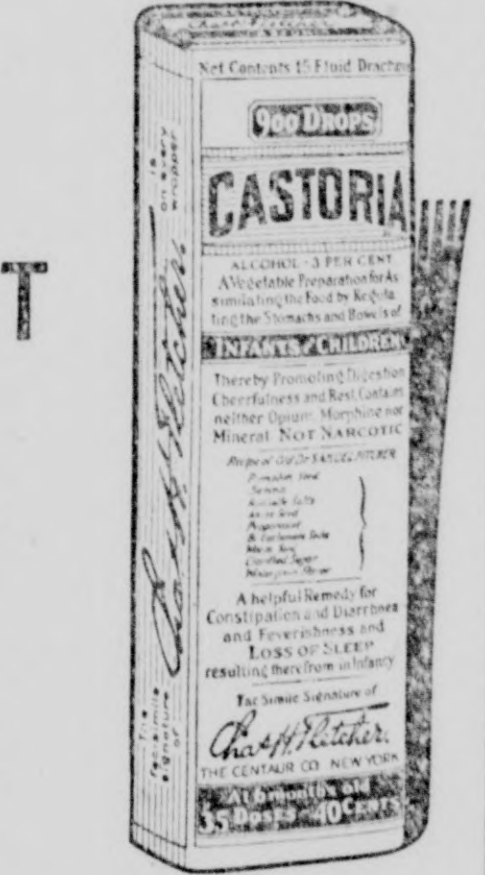

This regulation may be enforced due to the heavy traffic which it is believed will flow east and west.

Aluminum paint is being used to keep structures either hot or cold because it reflects heat and does not readily absorb it.

Quick COMFORT for fretful upset children

ALL children are subject to little upsets. They come at unexpected times. They seem twice as serious in the dead of night. But there's one form of comfort on which a mother can always rely; good old Castoria. This pure vegetable preparation can't harm the tiniest infant. Yet mild as it is, it soothes a restless, fretful baby like nothing else. Its quick relief soon sees the youngster comfortable once more, back to sleep. Even an attack of colic, or diarrhea, yields to the soothing influence of Castoria.

Keep Castoria in mind, and keep a bottle in the house—always. Give it to any child whose tongue is coated, or whose breath is bad. Continue with Castoria until the child is grown!

For sale by all druggists. Be sure to get the genuine product with Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on wrapper, and this familiar nameplate:

Township To Get Stray White Horse

Although they do not know it and won't until they read it, the supervisors of Shenango township will soon have a white horse to assume charge of, as one was found straying recently on the city golf course and City Solicitor White has directed the authorities of the township to take charge of the animal.

According to White, the golf course is owned by the city but the land has not been annexed as part of the city of New Castle but continues as a part of Shenango township and by virtue of this, it is up to Shenango township to assume charge of the horse.

According to an ancient law the town clerk must be notified of the finding of a stray horse and he must advertise in the 'Pennsylvania Gazette' for the owner. As John Brinton is justice of the peace in Shenango township, White today wrote Brinton and supervisors advising them to take charge of the horse.

No Identification Of Railroad Victim

Finger Prints Are Taken This Morning Of Man Found Along Tracks At Edenburg

Up until today no identification of the man whose remains were found scattered along the Baltimore & Ohio tracks at Edenburg yesterday morning had been made. This would indicate that the man was not a resident of this county, as it is likely that if any one is missing it would have been reported following publication of the accident in yesterday's News. A finger print expert from the Butler state police barracks was here this morning for the purpose of taking finger prints in the hope that they might lead to identification. Part of one hand was found intact from which the finger prints were taken. Unless identification is made today the remains will be buried by the county.

Claims Driver Of Car Was Negligent

Suit Of Anton Werhnyak Against Frank Dujmoric On Trial At Court Today

Suit for personal injuries and damage to an automobile in which Anton Werhnyak is plaintiff and Frank Dujmoric is defendant, is on trial before Judge James A. Chambers in court today. Werhnyak claims that he was driving west on the Mt. Jackson and Bessemer road. He had crossed the railroad tracks at the eastern end of Bessemer. After crossing the tracks the road curves to the left. Werhnyak claims that he was driving on the right hand side of the road, when the Dujmoric car, coming at a high rate of speed, cut the curve and ran into the side of his machine. Werhnyak was painfully injured and his car badly wrecked. It is claimed that the accident was due to Dujmoric's careless operation of his car.

Grove City To Have Charge Of Dinner Program

Otis Gilmore Is Chairman Of Entertainment Committee For Friday Evening

According to Otis Gilmore, chairman of the entertainment program for the Consistory dinner on Friday evening, a well balanced program will be presented, a group of eleven entertainers having been secured for the evening.

The dinner will start promptly. Howard O. Erwin, chairman of the reception committee will have his organization at the door to greet the visitors and extend to them the glad hand of fellowship.

While the entertainment will be a feature and one that will be greatly enjoyed, a large crowd will be on hand to greet the Grove City members. It is not often that the New Castle folks have the opportunity to be entertained by talent from the college town, and Friday evening should see one of the best dinner parties yet held.

General Chairman William J. Moffatt is interested in having a large crowd on hands to greet the visitors and show them in a practical way that the efforts of the Grove City members is greatly appreciated.

F. P. A. Meeting Here Is Successful Event

State Heads Of Organization At Meeting On Tuesday; Councils Represented

New Castle Council No. 180 Fraternal Patriotic Americans held an open meeting Tuesday evening. Out-of-town representatives were here from Ellwood City and Wampum councils.

Addresses were made by State Vice-Councilor Frank Eiting, Lancaster; Junior Past Councilor Elmer Thomas, Pittsburgh; State Council secretary-treasurer C. W. Brinsler, Philadelphia.

The local council was presented with a F. P. A. stand cover made by Mrs. Pearl Shilp.

Eddie Brown furnished the musical program. A luncheon was served following the meeting. Mrs. J. Alexander received the prize of the evening a large turkey presented by the council.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy cheeks—sparkling eyes—most women can have. Dr. F. M. Edwards for 20 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave his patients a substitute for calomel made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients, naming them Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, causing a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, take one of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets—now and then to keep fit. 15c, 30c and 60c.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Not Feasible To Pave In Winter

Can Build Sewers And Grade Streets If Funds Available, Engineers State

"We could build sewers and grade streets but it would not be feasible to pave during winter months" declared City Engineers F. P. Miller and Harry Hoskins when interviewed today regarding the feasibility of making paving improvements here.

"In order to build sewers and grade streets, however," said Hoskins "we would have to have funds."

He said that paving is not feasible as concrete could not be poured at a temperature lower than 35 degrees unless materials were heated.

In the opinion of the two engineers had the bond issue for $1,250,000, put before the voters, been adopted by the people, it would now be possible to do considerable work which would provide employment.

CASE IS DROPPED

In the hearing of Frank Ferreri against Louis DeCaprio, Clara Creastro, Mike Creastro, and Christine Ferreri on a charge of assault and battery, the defendants agreed to pay the costs and the case was dropped. The hearing took place at the office of Alderman J. Lee Cooper of East Long avenue.

Queen Esthers To Present Playlet

Under the coaching of Miss Eulalia Magruder, deaconess of the First Methodist church, the members of the American Queen Esthers are letter perfect in their parts for "The Country Cousin," which will be presented Friday evening at 8:15 in the church.

Those taking part in the three act play will be Gretchen Myers, Millred Layton, Mary Nunn, Esther Jane Caven, Louise Mitchell, Elizabeth Kummer, Dorothy Myers and Margaret Wallace.

Between the acts of the play there will be special features, a piano solo by Assunda Giancola and a reading by Esther Jane Caven. A solo by Mrs. J. C. Miner will be a feature of the play.

Burns Declares City Is Not Required To Make Fund Request

Councilman William T. Burns, superintendent of city finance, expressed the opinion today that the city is not required to make application to the state auditor for the city's share of monies allotted by the state and derived from the state tax on business of foreign fire insurance companies.

A dispatch from Harrisburg yesterday stated that warrants for payment of $151,437, to the firemen's relief funds of cities, townships and boroughs, were being sent from the auditor-general's office, after being approved by the state auditor.

The dispatch stated that checks for many municipalities will be held up because municipal authorities failed to fulfill provisions of the act of 1929 and among the cities which had not lodged a claim for payment is New Castle—which resulted in the interview with Councilman Burns.

According to state law as interpreted by Mr. Burns each city receiving such money shall make payment to a relief association duly recognized by council. The act also says, Burns stated, that warrants shall be drawn payable to treasurers of cities.

Burns takes the position that the auditor must pay the money first to the city treasurer and it is then that the cities turn over the money to the duly recognized relief association. "It is not necessary to application and we do not have to recognize and rule," The law says pay to city treasurers.

Some months ago a delegation from the New Castle Firemen's Relief Fund association requested the city council to formally recognize the association. Recognition was withheld. Later another association was formed by paid members of the local fire department.

Testimonial For Secretary Davis In Philadelphia

Newly Elected Junior Senator Talks About Business Conditions

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 20.—Pennsylvania employers by retaining existing wage scales and keeping their organizations intact are contributing in a large measure to relieving business conditions.

Secretary of Labor James J. Davis so informed a group of diners at the manufacturers' club here during a testimonial dinner given him. The event marked his first appearance in Philadelphia since he was elected Junior U. S. Senator from Pennsylvania on November 4. Tonight he will go to West Chester to attend a testimonial dinner in his honor by the Real Republican club of Chester county. Philip H. Dwyer, Pennsylvania's newly elected secretary of internal affairs also will be honored at the dinner.

"Pennsylvania's Industrials and employers have for the most part kept up wages and maintained the buying power of our people," he said. "I am sorry to say, however, there has been a few exceptions, some right here in this vicinity."

"I am willing to let the record break for itself," Davis told the manufacturers in speaking of his term as secretary of labor.

"As senator," he continued, "I hope to merit the same endorsement. It will be my purpose to serve all the people with equal zeal for every group. It will be my further aim to advance the interests of our state in the councils of our nation."

A crew of county workmen were busy today re-surfacing the West Washington street bridge over the Shenango river, badly worn by the heavy volume of automobile traffic of the past few months. The limestone and tar mixture, poured over the old paving, was being rolled to a smooth surface.

City Nurse Makes 78 Calls In October

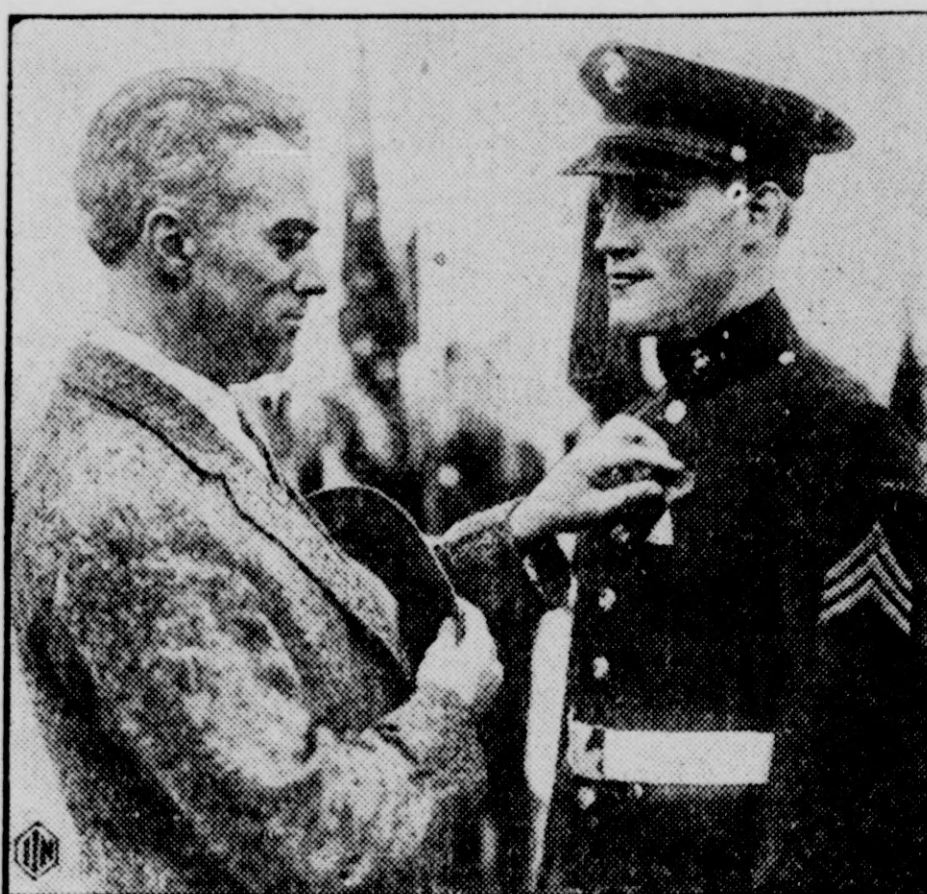

Miss Eleanor Busang made 78 calls during October, according to a city health report submitted to council. They included visits to quarantined homes, observation visits, business calls, visits to dress wounds and 13 hours bedside care was given.

Miss Thorsell Head Of Camp Advisory Staff

Local Girl Scout Executives Were Instructed In Special Activities By Miss Thorsell

A recent dispatch states that Miss Emelia Thorsell of the Hiawatha region of Girl Scouts, has been appointed head of the camp advisory staff, a position of great responsibility.

Miss Thorsell was in charge of special activities and taught outdoor camping, cooking, etc.

The Hiawatha region includes North and South Dakota and Minnesota.

Miss Jeanne Christie of the same region in which New Castle is included, is one of the six members of the advisory staff. Miss Christie will be present at the regional conference to be held in New Castle next May. She is assistant to Miss Adelaide Werner, regional director. Miss Werner will also be present at the meeting.

ONLY THREE CASES DURING PAST MONTH

There were only three cases of contagious illness reported here during October, according to a city health bureau report. There was only one case each of scarlet fever, chickenpox and typhoid fever.

Food Inclusion Is Badly Needed

Food Inclusion Would Tend To Strengthen Teeth, Iowa Professor Says

HEALTHY TEETH ARE BENEFICIAL

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 20.—Food inclusion rather than food exclusion should feature a teeth strengthening diet, Dr. C. L. Drain, of the University of Iowa, declared in an address opening the convention of the odontological society of Western Pennsylvania.

Citing the results of nearly seven year's experimental research work on children up to the age of 16 years Dr. Drain told of necessary foods to assure a healthy tooth condition. He said:

"The foods every child up to 16 years of age needs and should have are one quart of milk, at least one egg, one teaspoon of cod liver oil, two large servings of vegetables, two large servings of fruit, one of which should be fresh, six teaspoons of butter and a serving of meat."

"These food items will build firm teeth making for a healthy mouth which is necessary for health of body and mind."

Opening of the convention today was featured by clinics showing the latest technical developments in odontological science.

First Baptist Gains In Contest

Sunday school of the First Baptist church in the attendance contest now in progress with the Cavalry Baptist church of Norristown, Pa., gained slightly as a result of the records of last Sunday. The contest is based on attendance this year as compared with last year and the percentage of gain of the local church school in the three weeks the contest has been in progress is 12 as compared with but 4 for the Norristown church. The previous week, the percentage of gain was on the ratio of 9 to 5 in favor of the local church, indicating a still further gain last Sunday for the school here. The contest will continue for nine weeks.

Sanitary Police Make Inspections

City health reports state that sanitary police made 598 sanitary inspections during October. Three homes were placed in quarantine and three homes released from quarantine.

They are also credited with 160 inspections at meat and fish markets, hotels and restaurants, ice cream and confectionery stores and of soda fountains and fruit stands.

Burns 706 Tons Of Garbage Here

Seven hundred and six tons of garbage were collected and burned at the city furnace during October, according to Howard Phillips' report of garbage activities during October. He reported that 100 loads were removed by non-city trucks and that other persons carted away 200 barrels of garbage.

Neighborhood Clubs Hold Two Meetings

The Vikings and the Alpine Club, neighborhood groups of the Y. M. C. A. met Wednesday evening and held successful meetings.

Officers were elected at the meeting. Devotions were led by Jack Armstrong. A basketball team that is to play next Wednesday in competition with other teams for the club points, was appointed. Songs and yells were planned.

Herbert McClure was elected president; Robert Allen vice president; George Rigby, secretary; Royal Kerr, treasurer; Harold Sanders, New Castle News reporter.

Alpine Club

Had a very interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. W. S. Ober of Laurel Ave. The boys held their weekly devotions led by the leader Robert Wilkins, the subject was Athletics of the Bible.

The meeting was turned over to the president George Swisher. The club drew up and adopted a constitution.

Following new members were admitted, to the Alpines Thomas Gettings, Andy Markel, Bud Wharton, Paul Rumbaugh, Anthony Scarazzo, Merle Fisher, Gehin Thomas, Bill Tibb, Martin Hofmeister.

The club drew up designs for their club banner, which consisted of an inverted triangle inside a circle with a silhouette of a climber on the triangle or the peak.

Gypsies Stage Shooting Party In Philadelphia

Two Are Wounded, Dozen Are Under Arrest As Result Of Shooting

WARFARE STARTS
OVER BIG FEUD

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 20.—Ancient gypsy feuds, started in Hungary and brought into the new world by surviving members of the embattled bands, flared into renewed activity last night before the eyes of hundreds of pedestrians in the Market street theater district. Knives and smoking pistols left in their wake a toll of two hundred wounded and a dozen or more of the restless clansmen under arrest today.

The warfare was followed by an attempt on part of the surviving gypsies to rescue their wounded comrades from their cots at Hahnemann hospital. There the heroism of an orderly frustrated the plot. Disarming one of a dozen swarthy intruders, he backed them up against a wall until the arrival of police.

Slayer Recognized
Spectators reported that more than 50 gaudily dressed tribesmen and their wives dashed down Market street in pursuit of their blood enemy. For five blocks the battle raged until brought under control by police. The fracas had started when John Smith, 28, failed to remember the ancient feuds and paid a visit upon another tribe making its winter headquarters here. As he entered, a woman identified as Mrs. Minnie Ristick, widow of a man slain years before in Hungary, screamed in rage and came at him. In an instant, police say, Smith was surrounded by the hostile clan.

Then it is said, he pulled a pistol and opened fire, wounding two men, George Ristick and Steve Nagel, 66, of Yonkers, N. Y. He then dashed into the street, pursued by his enraged enemies.

Smith was arrested later on charges of aggravated assault and battery. A dozen of the gypsies were held as material witnesses.

Drastic New Auto Law Is Proposed

Would Revoke Licenses Of Those Who Have Not Paid Judgments In Crashes

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 20.—A measure designed to reach the small minority of reckless motorists will be sponsored by the Pennsylvania Motor Federation at the next session of the Pennsylvania legislature.

"This bill, which doubtless will be one of the most important before the 1931 legislature," said S. Edward Gable, president of the federation, "aims to protect the large mass of law-abiding drivers."

"Already in effect in a dozen states, including New York and New Jersey, the measure is working out well and we feel sure it will mean much to Pennsylvania motorists if the legislature sees fit to enact it."

Outstanding provisions of the proposed measure include:

Mandatory suspension of the operator's license and registration certificates of all persons found guilty of serious violations of the motor laws. Suspension of the driving rights and ownership registration of all persons against whom a final judgment has been legally rendered and who have failed to satisfy for the full amount; provisions making the law nationally reciprocal so that its provisions will apply to any person convicted of such serious violations in any state or in Canada, or any person who permits a judgment recovered against him to remain unpaid.

Many cloth dresses this fall will be worn with fur scarfs and muffs.

FALL AND WINTER DIETS SHOULD INCLUDE SWEETS

Desserts, Jellies, Canned Fruits, Candies and Cranberry Sauce Are Appropriate

Winter diets demand fuel food. To disregard this rule leads to lowered vitality, the result of which is sickness.

Food that contains, or is served with refined sugar is good fuel food. Cereal, fresh or stewed fruit, jellies, jams, preserves, sweetened beverages and desserts belong to this class and every meal affords an opportunity to serve them.

At this time of the year, cranberries in some form are appropriate at any meal. Serve them as a jelly for breakfast; as a sauce with meats; in puddings and pies for desserts.

Business people can avoid and overcome fatigue by eating or drinking something sweet in the afternoon. There is a wide variety of such snacks available everywhere—candy, cakes, beverages and ice cream. A glass of water sweetened with sugar—the "athlete's cocktail"—will always prove invigorating. In eating and drinking these foods and beverages, the sugar is quickly digested and its energy is immediately available. Most foods are more delicious and nourishing with a dash of sugar. The Sugar Institute.

Girls' Debate Team Plans Winter Contest

ALICE BELL

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 20.—Freshmen and sophomore women at Westminster College will compete in the annual inter-class debate shortly after the Thanksgiving recess, Miss Alice Bell, New Wilmington manager, stated yesterday. The first-year team will uphold the affirmative and the sophomore the negative of the question, Resolved that the states should enact laws providing for compulsory insurance.

The freshman team includes Emily Parker, Jean Miller, Marjorie Glass, and Ebba Sizer; while the sophomore team includes Olive Mills, Ailene Miller, and Betty Curtis. Miss Louise Adams, New Wilmington, will coach the freshman team, and Miss Jeannette Albracht, Erie, will coach the sophomores.

Miss Bell also announced that steps have been taken to get the varsity debate schedule arranged for the girls. Some of the colleges with which Miss Bell is corresponding concerning contests are: Bethany, Seton Hill, Juniata, Western Reserve, Lake Erie, Grove City, and Geneva.

Mrs. Mary C. McConagha will coach the girls' varsity team, which has as veteran members Louise Adams, Jeannette Albracht, Margaret Walker, and Rebecca Wallace.

Rt. Rev. Roberts Is Made Bishop

South Dakota Minister Becomes Bishop Of Harrisburg Diocese

ELECTION COMES AFTER HARD FIGHT

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 20.—The Rt. Rev. William Blair Roberts, since 1922 suffragan bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church of South Dakota, today was bishop of the Harrisburg Diocese, successor to the late bishop James Henry Darlington, who died in Kingston, N. Y., last August 14.

Election of bishop Roberts came on the eleventh ballot, after the Diocesan convention yesterday evening appeared to be hopelessly deadlocked on the South Dakota prelate and Rev. Dr. Henry H. Hadley, of Syracuse, N. Y.

On the eleventh ballot, bishop Roberts received 32 clerical and 70 lay votes from delegates representing the 96 parishes of the Diocese and was named bishop.

Native of Michigan
The new bishop is a native of Michigan and has spent his entire ministry in South Dakota, where he received his first charge as deacon in 1908.

He was born in Detroit in 1881 and educated at Hartford, Conn., graduating from Trinity College and the Berkeley Divinity school. He was ordained in 1908 and made a priest a year later. He was consecrated bishop in 1922.

During the war he served overseas as chaplain of the 313th engineers. He is a chaplain in the reserve corps, holding the rank of major, and was state chaplain of the American Legion department of South Dakota in 1921.

Rev. May B. Fox Wintering In Florida

Of interest to her many friends in this city will be the clipping taken from a Florida paper of recent date in regard to Rev. May B. Fox, who was pastor of the First Free Methodist church here for some time.

Lamb and Fox
It sounds like something out of a fairy story to have a Lamb and a Fox preach in the same pulpit the same day, but this was the experience of the Free Methodist church last Sunday, when the regular pastor, Rev. Laura Lamb, occupied the pulpit in the morning and her friend, Rev. May B. Fox, in the evening. Mrs. Fox, who is from New Castle, Pa., is here for the first time and will spend the winter with Mrs. Lamb at 217 east Magnolia street.

Rare Birds Are Returning To State

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 20.—Certain species of birds which have not been seen in this section of Pennsylvania for many years are returning and becoming plentiful again. Miss Clara Hershey, head of the bird section of the Harrisburg Natural History Society, told the society at its meeting here.

Birds which have been seen in this region recently, Miss Hershey said, include the wood duck, the mocking bird, the red-headed woodpecker and English starlings.

Survey Shows What Teachers Do In Spare Time

Some Write Books While Others Engage In Research Work, It Is Found

(International News Service)
LANCASTER, Pa., Nov. 20.—What does a college instructor do when he's not instructing?

Many things, of course, including search for the germ cause of the dread zoonotic disease, proboscidea of boxwood trees, seek new sources for the story of "Hamlet," consider the municipal government of Lancaster and discontinue on economic significance of senatorial elections in Iowa. At least, instructors at Franklin-Marshall college here do those things.

A survey of the faculty of the school reveals that about ten books are being written or edited by members of it, while others are engaged in graduate work or in experimental and research that will eventually find their ways into books or statistics on new fields.

Capture of the elusive organism in yeast which produces the disease zoonotic disease holds the attention of Wesley G. Hutchinson, instructor in chemistry and biology, who, between times, delves into diseases of boxwood trees.

Literary backgrounds of the English political radicals of the 18th century hold greatest interest for Dr. Martin Ray Adams, who has delved through ancient, dusty magazines for his materials. New origins of "Hamlet" are sought by Dr. S. N. Hagen, whose hobby is Scandinavian mythology and folklore. Dr. Peter M. Harbold and Prof. B. W. Fisher are making surveys of student aptitude.

Prof. J. A. Neprash has completed a dissertation on the Brookhart senatorial elections of Iowa, 1920-26, with a view to showing the economic and other influences of voting on various districts. Surveys of the little known fields of the Chinese and Japanese drama occupy Darrel Larson, English instructor. One faculty member is engaged in governmental work of great secrecy; others are working on studies in ethics, government, natural science, even the effect of food, noise and silence on human activity. It looks like a busy winter for most members of the faculty.

Bear Story Told By Railroaders

(International News Service)
NEWPORT, Pa., Nov. 20.—Three Harrisburg railroaders, on a hunting trip near here, came to town with one of the best bear stories of the season.

The three C. A. Wilson, A. E. Bott, and R. G. Hoover, went a-hunting—for anything. They tramped the mountains all day, got not a shot.

Wearied, they started back for town. Near here, they encountered a huge bear, nonchalantly strolling along the road. No one fired. All

The bear story was a success. Few workers here had with interest to the tale of the bear and its actions. Then along came E. T. Gaston to inform the hunters that the bear was a pet, receiving meals regularly from a gasoline station proprietor who owned him and wearing a collar and chain continuously.

New Castle Firm Battles Swamp

Local Contractors Continue Ceaseless Effort To Fill Up Swamp

Seven miles above Sheakleyville where the Perry Highway is spiked by a treacherous vegetation swamp the Boyles and Milson Supply Company of New Castle is participating with another firm from Kittanning in a ceaseless battle with nature. For three months gangs of men, including 14 men from this city, have hauled trucks and wagons of soil to fill to the edges of the seemingly bottomless swamp, emptied their loads and left with the full knowledge that when they returned the next day the fill level would be settled in the deep recesses of the swamp.

Near the huge swamp—it's 900 feet across—are three hills. One hill alone, it is estimated, contains 200,000 cubic yards of fill. While these slopes are gradually being leveled by steam shovels the fill dumped into the swamp is practically unnoticeable, and the officials are wondering what to do about the whole thing.

These men are engaged by contract by the state to fill the swamp. In order that the Perry highway may be completed between Pittsburgh and Erie, concrete stretches of roadway are already finished on either side. Now it is necessary to fill the swamp to connect them.

Thus far, the contractors themselves say, no headway has been made. They are using modern machinery to wrestle with the swamp, but they cannot say when the job will be finished. That is problematical. It may be next summer. It may be next winter. It may be longer. Nobody seems to know.

The Boyles and Milson Supply company of 323 South Mill street has the fill hauling contract. Watson-Bowser company of Kittanning has the fill contract with the state. On one side of the swamp the New Castle firm is extending its operations by unloading as rapidly as possible eight trucks of fill many times each day. On the opposite side the Kittanning contractor is hauling eight caterpillar trucks with wagons of fill attached. The plan is to continue filling until both sides meet.

But when both sides meet the two gangs of workers will sigh with relief.

Thus far Boyles and Milson have done work to the extent of $12,000, according to William Milson, one of the partners.

It may cost the state $1,000,000 to complete the concrete job over the big swamp. Milson thinks there is a 130-foot fill to be completed on the project, but definite figures, time of operations and other data is not available.

The swamp is located six miles east of Conneaut Lake.

Defective Part Explains Strange Hours Of Clock

Yes, the clock is fibbing, but how can you expect a clock to keep regular hours when it is minus a very important spring?

That is just what ails the clock in the tower of the First Christian church. There is a spring missing and until it is put back in place the hands will roam the faces at random.

A defective spring broke during the installing, according to the electricians, and it was carted down from the tower and shipped off to Chicago. In a few days it will be back, the clock will be its old self again and all will be right with the world.

It took the writer three days to come to the conclusion that the clock was not acting according to

Hoyle and Pfaff. Monday afternoon (or what was thought to be afternoon) the writer glanced up to the shingle faces and was astonished to see that it was just 11:05 a. m. An hour later it was still 11:05 a. m.

Next day a glance at the clock showed that the time of the day was 11:05. Well, it easily could have been that.

But this morning the clock showed 4:15 a. m. or p. m., and the writer knew very well that the clock was not acting right. True, it might have really been 4:15 a. m., but it was in all probability and by all laws of nature nearer 8:15!

So the investigation revealed the simple explanation—the spring isn't there and until it is, don't take the clock too seriously.

French Commission Will Investigate Levine's Misdeed

Refuse To Let Former Atlantic Flier Out On Bail In Vienna

(International News Service)
VIENNA, Nov. 20.—A French commission charged with thoroughly investigating the case of Charles A. Levine, held in jail here in connection with suspicion of counterfeiting French money, was awaited here today.

The Vienna prosecutor refused the plea of the transatlantic flyer's attorney that Levine be admitted on bail, but expected to finish his own investigation today.

Levine's lawyer stated his client was without cash immediately before arrest, but New York banks later cabled that all his checks are covered.

Full-Face Portrait On Harding Stamps

Instead of the present profile picture of the late President Warren G. Harding that now appears on the 1½ postage stamps, a full-face engraving will be used commencing next month, the post office announces.

Postmaster General Brown said the profile had not been satisfactory. First sale of the stamps will be made at Marion, O. Harding's home, on December 1 and at other offices later.

THE Luxurious FRESHNESS OF THIS Thermo-fresh COFFEE adds 60% more flavor to your breakfast cup

WHITE HOUSE COFFEE has always had glorious flavor . . . but now that flavor is 60% richer, 60% mellower, than you've ever before tasted it.

How do we add 60% more flavor? We don't, exactly. Rather, we save it for you, in the new Thermo-fresh tin.

Freshly-roasted coffee, of course, is 100% flavor. But as soon as it cools from the roasting, that flavor begins to escape . . . It goes with a rush . . . 60% steals away within nine days.*

But White House Coffee

is quickly locked up in the Thermo-fresh tin, fresh from the roaster, deliciously steeped in its own rich aroma . . . Only when you unlock the tin can it come out, and then all its luxurious freshness goes into the coffee you make.

Your grocer probably has the White House Thermo-fresh Coffee. Ask for it. You may find that it costs a little more than the coffee you've been buying, but remember that it has 60% more flavor.

Letter Carriers Still Pursue Horseshoe Game

Walter Hindman, a letter carrier for the New Castle postoffice, really should be presented with a silver horseshoe. A great many people who have watched the horseshoe games being played almost daily in the court yard of the postoffice, agree that Walter is a champ of champs.

Being superior to other men of the postoffice crowd is no empty honor. The letter carriers are all excellent players and for months and months they have kept at it.

With the coming of cold weather, groups of horseshoe enthusiasts in other parts of the city have given up the sport. They have laid the heavy iron shoes away in a corner, to be brought out again next year.

But did the November winds face the letter carriers? No. They are still going strong, and Hindman is having a mighty hard time to hold up his reputation, for the other fellows are mighty, mighty good.

AIRPLANE, CRAFT CLUBS HOLD GOOD MEETINGS AT "Y"

Under the supervision of William Shira, craft club activities proved interesting Wednesday evening. A large group gathered around the work bench in the Y. M. C. A. club room.

The baby R. O. G. was cut out the Japanese paper was prepared and part of the airplane constructed.

The body part will be taken up next week. Some exhibitions are to be seen on November 26 at the craft meeting.

William Thomas showed samples of electrical work. Next week the first table lamps will be constructed by the boys.

There is no expense to the club, except the material bought. The club is open to any boy of the city. Bring your application to the Y. M. C. A. boys' work office, or to William Shira, senior Hi-Y president, the senior high school.

The jobless man has one advantage. He can afford to spend the necessary three days in bed when he gets a bad cold.

Blessed are the poor. They aren't ashamed of their old diamonds because the new ones are cut in a different shape.

Senior High To Have Vergil Anniversary Program On Friday

The Senior High school on Friday morning again will participate in the world-wide celebration of the 2000th anniversary of the birth of the poet Vergil. The oratorical contest of October 15 already has brought the importance of the Roman poet before the entire student body.

The local high school is one of the 1000 schools selected as outstanding among the 13,000 secondary schools in the United States by Phi Beta Kappa, the national honorary college fraternity, which is co-operating with other organizations in arranging celebrations. The speaker will be Charles A. Dawson, Ph. D., head of the department of English in Westminster College. He will be introduced by Attorney Alvah M. Shumaker, A. B. and L. B., who will also give a brief history of Phi Beta Kappa and its interest in the Vergilian celebration. These speakers have been commissioned by Phi Beta Kappa because of the fraternity's interest in scholarship, particularly in the young men and women who will go from the New Castle High school into college and university careers. As the representative of Phi Beta Kappa, Dr. Dawson will present an attractively bound volume of "Representative Phi Beta Kappa" orations to the school library. This work contains forty-eight orations by such famous members of the fraternity as Ralph Waldo Emerson, Edward Everett Hale, Charles Sumner, Woodrow Wilson, Charles William Elliot, Mary Emma Woolley and Henry VanDyke.

The Fraternity is developing a fund called the Phi Beta Kappa Foundation primarily for encouraging scholarship and cultural ideals in the realms of secondary and higher education. This purpose together with the interest in Latin in the local junior and senior high schools provides this opportunity for joining with selected institutions in practically every state of the Union in this biennial celebration in honor of Vergil, who is regarded as an eminent representative of cultural civilization.

A Phi Beta Kappa announcement

Arabian Theme May Be Chosen For May Pageant

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 20.—Preliminary plans for the annual May pageant at Westminster College are under consideration as the class in pageantry, taught by Mrs. Mary C. McConagha, director of the pageant, studies folk lore for a possible theme. While nothing definite has been decided, it is probable that the theme of this year's outdoor spectacle will center around Haroun Al-Raschid and the Arabian Nights Tales.

Members of the class are reading various editions of the Arabian Nights, thoroughly saturating themselves with these Oriental folk-tales, in order that they may decide upon the essential ideas to be developed. Just before the Thanksgiving recess each member will submit a plan for the pageant, and by a comparison of these plans a single unifying theme will be selected.

Folk-lore characters of Persia, China, Egypt, Mesopotamia, and Abyssinia will be portrayed, and various unique and humorous features will be introduced. In the matter of costumes, the designers will try accurately to reproduce the costumes used in the period between 700 and 1100 A. D., the time of Haroun Al-Raschid and his ardent followers.

Old Greenbacks Found In State
(International News Service)
KINGSTON, Pa., Nov. 20.—Three "greenbacks," issued about the time of the American Revolution, were here among the possessions of the late Squire William M. Van Horn. The oldest of the bills is dated 1775. It states:

"This bill entitles the bearer to receive Three Spanish Milled Dollars or the value thereof in gold or silver according to the Resolution of Congress held in Philadelphia the 10th of May, 1775."

The bills, though discolored, were in good condition. They have, however, no intrinsic value, according to local bankers.

Mine Coal From Dry Stream Bed
(International News Service)
CHARLESTON, Pa., Nov. 20.—It's a poor drought that brings no good with it.

Residents of this section will testify to that, for, with Ten Mile creek practically dry as a result of last summer's prolonged drought, several of the more enterprising nearby residents have taken to mining the Waynesburg vein of coal, where it crops out along the bed of the stream.

Picks and shovels are the only tools necessary to lay in a good winter's coal supply.

PILES
Ended Without Cutting or Salves
Thousands of Pile sufferers have learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves or cutting remove the cause.

Bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The veins are flabby, the bowel walls weak—the parts almost dead. To end Piles an internal medicine must be used to stimulate the circulation and strengthen the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonard was the first to discover a real internal Pile remedy. He called his prescription HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 1000 patients with the marvelous record of success in 999 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer should be able to get HEM-ROID from their own druggist with a rigid money-back guarantee.

Dr. Leonard's prescription has a wonderful record of success right in this city and McKee's of Edinboro, Pa., has been the first to put HEM-ROID in their medicine boxes to refund the purchase price if it does not end all Pile misery.

Amish Of Lawrence County Not Migrating

Report from Lewistown and the eastern section of Pennsylvania adjacent to the city, is in effect that families of the Amish community that has long existed in that section of Pennsylvania are migrating to Mississippi, in the hope of finding and Pulaski townships to the north and Enon Valley to the south.

There is no present indicated movement on the part of any of the local community to go to Mississippi or any other place.

The Amish, a branch of the Mennonites, have long held forth in the fertile territory of Wilmington and Pulaski townships and have been gradually increasing their holdings for years, as they increased in numbers.

They have been quite prosperous due to the industrious manner in which they have operated their farms and while, they, as well as others are naturally affected some by depressions, they meet the situation successfully.

In this district they are inclined to be content with their lot and conditions and the only instance in which any numbers have left the mother community in the northern part of the county was a few years ago, when a number of families moved to the Enon Valley district in the southern part of the county. There is now a considerable group in the latter district, while the mother community for the most part has remained unchanged in extent and even in numbers though some few families moving here from other Amish communities in the east and from Ohio, and the younger generations in some families taking over farms of their own.

In recent months, perhaps to be corrected, there has been a family or two leave the group in the northern part of the county for other similar communities, but there has also been a new family or two come from other districts and there is no present indicated intention of a movement of these thrifty residents to go to other points.

Dry Leaders Plan Educational Drive

Dr. F. Scott McBride, Of Anti-Saloon League Has Advertising Scheme

Will Try To "Sell Prohibition" To Nation Through Concentrated Drive

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Reluctantly coming to the conclusion that prohibition is facing a crisis, and that if it is to be saved energetic efforts must be put forth, dry leaders here have decided to launch a counter-offensive against the very evident wet drift revealed in the elections two weeks ago.

Its aim, according to Dr. F. Scott McBride, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, "is mainly educational." He wants to enlist educators, business men, economists and professional men generally in a national drive to "sell prohibition" to the country. Particularly, the hope is to convince American business that prohibition is economically valuable and worth saving.

Hopes For Budget.
Dr. McBride has hopes of raising a $5,000,000 budget for expenditure during the next year. This amount is far larger than the dry have been spending in recent years, and where it is to come from is not yet apparent.

All of the 20-odd prohibition organizations such as the league, the W. C. T. U., the Methodist board of temperance, prohibition and public morals, have been seriously embarrassed for several years by lack of funds. Revenues started dropping off simultaneously with the apparent national drift against prohibition, and in recent months the dry organizations have had to sharply curtail their activities to conform with their budgets.

At the same time there has been a steady growth of anti-prohibition organizations, well-financed and well-directed. The Association Against the Prohibition Amendment alone spent well over a million dollars in the past year.

Conferences Held.
A number of quiet conferences have been held here by dry leaders since the November 4 election. More will be held between now and January 1. These conferences have had to do principally with where to get the funds to finance the national drive which Dr. McBride speaks.

The present budget of the league is about $1,500,000 annually, Dr. McBride said. It is not believed, however, that the collections are sufficient to meet that budget.

"We propose," said McBride, "that the whole nation shall be informed regarding the merits of prohibition and there will be an abundance of facts concerning conditions in the saloon days, which are bound to recur if the national prohibition laws are weakened."

"The work will be done under the auspices of the league, which led the fight to eliminate the saloon." All of the smaller dry organizations, he said, had agreed to back the league's efforts.

Probably before the first of the year there will be a general conference of dry leaders held here or in New York, to map out the plans for the next offensive. The first task, however, is to arrange the financing. This is the feature that is providing real worry for the dry leaders.

People Interested City Mission Work

Some weeks ago the directors of the City Mission placed in the homes and in business places in the city almost 4000 tin banks and it seems the people of the city have taken kindly to this method of raising money for the carrying on of the splendid work done by the mission and have been contributing quite freely to the financing of the mission.

As the banks begin to return it shows the people of the city have taken to heart the possibilities of giving to the mission, even though their personal contribution is not large and it is hoped the good work will continue as a little tin can may help provide a night's lodging for some needy wanderer or perhaps serve him a hot meal and, perchance lead him to know the Savior, through the ministrations of the mission.

Settlement Reached In Automobile Case

Miss Grace Barwell To Get $900 In Suit Against Martin And Marie Mills

By an agreement reached at court this morning a settlement was made in the damage case of Grace L. Barwell against Martin H. and Marie E. Mills.

Miss Barwell was a guest in the Mills machine which was being driven by Mrs. Mills. They were driving on a street known as Oak from Youngstown and were at a point where the street intersects the Coitsville and Hubbard road when a collision occurred with another car. Miss Barwell was severely injured, having a collar bone broken and sustaining internal injuries. It was claimed that the Mills car was being operated at a high and dangerous rate of speed. Just before the case was to be taken up before Judge Chambers a settlement was reported. Under the terms of the settlement Miss Barwell is to get $900.

Returns Are Made From Roll Call In Rural Districts

Walmo District Makes First Report In Red Cross Membership Drive

To the Walmo district, goes the honor of making the first report from the rural districts in the 14th Annual Roll Call, which is now under way in Lawrence County by the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross.

The report was one of the finest that has been turned in from the Walmo district in years, and presages a most successful Roll Call throughout the county.

Many local friends of the Red Cross have sent in their memberships and more are expected before the culmination of the campaign on Thanksgiving Day, which is just a week away.

Members of the Woman's Club will be located in downtown stores on Friday and Saturday for the purpose of enrolling members in the Red Cross, booths having been established in the New Castle Dry Goods, Higgins Brothers, and Strous-Hirschberg stores.

Booths were operated last Friday and Saturday in these stores with good results, and a number of memberships are expected to be received by them during the next two days.

It was stated this morning that contributions will be acceptable from persons who do not feel able to contribute a dollar which is the minimum price of a membership. Persons are asked to subscribe their dollar or more wherever possible.

White Presents Formal Opinion

Delivers Opinion To City Controller On Question Of Sanitary Police Vacancy

Robert White, city solicitor, has prepared an opinion, to be delivered to City Controller P. G. Greer, relative to the status of Samuel Biven, named temporary sanitary policeman some time ago to fill a vacancy caused by the death of the late Nathaniel Williams. According to White the emergency situation has ceased to exist.

The opinion, to be delivered to Greer, states "the civil service board having substituted a list of eligibles for appointment, it would not be lawful to retain any member of the sanitary police force on an emergency or temporary appointment for a longer time thereafter than reasonably necessary for the council, and particularly, the head of the department to make inquiry and satisfy himself about the qualifications of the three highest on the list of eligibles. As soon as such reasonable time has elapsed, the council should make an appointment in accordance with the civil service law."

Recently Councilman Reeves asked of council if the civil service board had presented a list of eligibles and was informed the board had. The list was approved. The question of continuing the temporary appointment came up and as a list of eligibles is available the city controller requested an opinion from Solicitor White as to Biven's status.

Jurors Pay Visit To County Jail

See Place Where Murders Were Hung And Find Glenn Dague Looking Neat

In company with Deputy Sheriff William Reynolds a number of jurors were shown through the county jail this morning. They seemed to be particularly interested in a corner of the jail where scotch-folds had been erected on which four murderers had been executed at different times.

Another point of interest was the padded cell from which the padding was torn from the back end by a violent prisoner this week. The prisoner who did the damage has now regained a normal condition and was found mingling with the other prisoners.

Glenn Dague, who with Irene Schroeder was convicted of the murder of Brady Paul, was also an object of interest. He appeared at the door of his cell cleanly shaven, his hair nicely combed and wearing light shirt, necktie and dark trousers. He spoke to several of the jurors as they passed. After they had come out of the jail one of the women was heard to remark that Dague was a much finer looking man than she had expected to see.

The visitors did not see Irene Schroeder as they were not taken to the women's quarters.

Instant death to germs of disease!

Think of it!—a non-poisonous mouth wash absolutely harmless, pleasant to taste, healing to tissue; yet with power to destroy germs by the millions.

Such is Listerine, for fifty years the outstanding antiseptic and germicide for oral hygiene.

Every type of dangerous germs swiftly succumb to it. Among them are the Streptococcus Hemolyticus, the organism associated with sore throat, Micrococcus Catarrhalis (catarrh) found frequently with colds, and the Pneumococcus (pneumonia).

Enemy of infection

Even Staphylococcus Aureus (pus) and Bacillus Typhosus (typhoid), germs specified for test purposes because of their resistance to germicides, yield to it. Listerine kills them in counts ranging to 200,000,000 in 15 seconds (fastest killing time science has accurately recorded).

Now you can understand why full strength Listerine is so successful in guarding against colds, sore throat, and other infections. Why also, it combats these diseases once they have gained a foothold.

LISTERINE
safe • non-poisonous

Reduces mouth germs 98%

The moment Listerine enters the mouth it attacks the millions of bacteria breeding there—kills them outright. The number of bacteria on the surfaces of the mucous membrane is actually reduced 98%. This has been clearly demonstrated by repeated tests made under methods employed at great Universities.

Gargle every 2 hours

Make a habit of using full strength Listerine as a mouth wash and gargle every night and morning. This treatment under normal conditions of health is considered sufficient to keep mouth germs under control and maintain a clean and healthy condition in the oral tract.

When, however, you have a cold or sore throat consult your doctor and increase the frequency of the gargle to once every two hours.

Thus you give nature an extra attacking force needed when body resistance is low, to keep disease germs under control. Lambert Pharmaceutical Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

Please Come In and Look Me Over

A fair question—"Where can you find my equal for $365?" I've got good paint, excellent tires and my mechanical condition is fine. I'm one car where looks don't mean everything. You know performance is the thing that everybody wants, yet there's a lot of people who look at the paint and make their decision. See me in the used car stock at Barnes-Snyder Motor Co. I'm a 1929 Chevrolet Coupe

Just 2 Years Old!

I've got appearance and performance both. I've been repainted, my motor has been completely overhauled and my tires are good. If you will give me a chance to demonstrate, you'll readily understand why I think so much of myself. I'm a 1928 Dodge Victory 6 Brougham and any one who buys me will not be disappointed. My price was $550, but it has been cut down to $485 for quick clearance.

I've Given Two Years of Good Service—Many More to Follow

I'm looking for someone who will provide me with a good home, someone who will give me the best of care in keeping with my past experience. When I was new, I sold for $1850, but now they're only asking $525 for me and I feel just as young as ever. I'm a 1928 Studebaker Commander Sedan, a car that you will be proud to own and drive. I look and run like new and I'm a real bargain for the fellow that picks me.

Monitoring System Best In United States

Many Programs From Foreign Countries Made Available For Broadcasting

RADIO DIVISION EXAMINES STATIONS

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
of The New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 20.—The United States today has a more complete radio monitoring system than any other country in the world but not so much attention can be given to the inspection of broadcasting stations as should be given because of the limited personnel of the radio division of the commerce department. W. D. Tyrrell, chief of the division, declares in his annual report.

In speaking of the monitoring system of this country, Mr. Tyrrell asserts that during the last year tests conducted at the primary monitoring station at Grand Isle resulted in reception of transmissions from numerous foreign countries, including those as far separated as Russia and Argentina. A recent program transmitted from Tokyo was picked up at this primary station and made available for broadcasting in the United States.

Last fiscal year the radio division of the commerce department examined 10,000 operators of radio stations and in addition to these examinations, more than 6,000 licenses were renewed. Licenses are handled by the radio commission but the radio division of the commerce department must examine and certify as to the qualifications of radio station operators.

What is the purpose of the State Law Will Be Strictly Enforced by Members Of Highway Patrol

An appeal for Pennsylvania hunters to find other targets than highway signs when they get the urge to test their marksmanship, is made by the Pittsburgh Motor Club.

"Every fall," says a statement by George G. Semans, chairman of the Highway Committee of the club, "highway warning and direction signs are used as targets by thoughtless or irresponsible gunners. This unsportsmanlike practice works a distinct hardship on the motoring public by depriving drivers of the benefit of signs erected for their guidance. In addition, these signs have a cash value which is an important item in the building and upkeep of state roads."

Semans said a warning has been issued from the state highway department at Harrisburg that the law against destruction of signs will be strictly enforced as far as possible this year by members of the highway patrol.

One Hundredth Anniversary Of The Independence War Will Be Fittingly Observed

The commemoration of the great event of the "revolution" of 1830-31 in Poland is being celebrated in a most fitting way by the Polish residents of New Castle in the Rumanian Hall, 1020 South Jefferson St., on Sunday, November 20, at 3 p. m.

There will be speakers tell of this important historical event, how the kingdom of Poland, as a political entity, disappeared from the map of Europe, but Poland as a self-conscious nation, never.

Without a national government she was like a ship without a rudder until three immortal prophets, Adam Mickiewicz, Juliusz Slowacki and Zygmunt Krasinski began their gospel of national ideology and decalog of civic duty and dignity and though politically non-existent Poland was alive indeed and being inspired by these prophets and a band of powerful representatives of Polish creative genius, they went forward through persecutions and sufferings of all kinds, until the war of 1914-18, the great world war, again gave her a place on the map.

Thus the nation of Poland and the Polishmen all over the world are celebrating the centennial anniversary of this Powstanie of 1830-31.

Money Spent For Upkeep Doesn't Buy NEW Roads

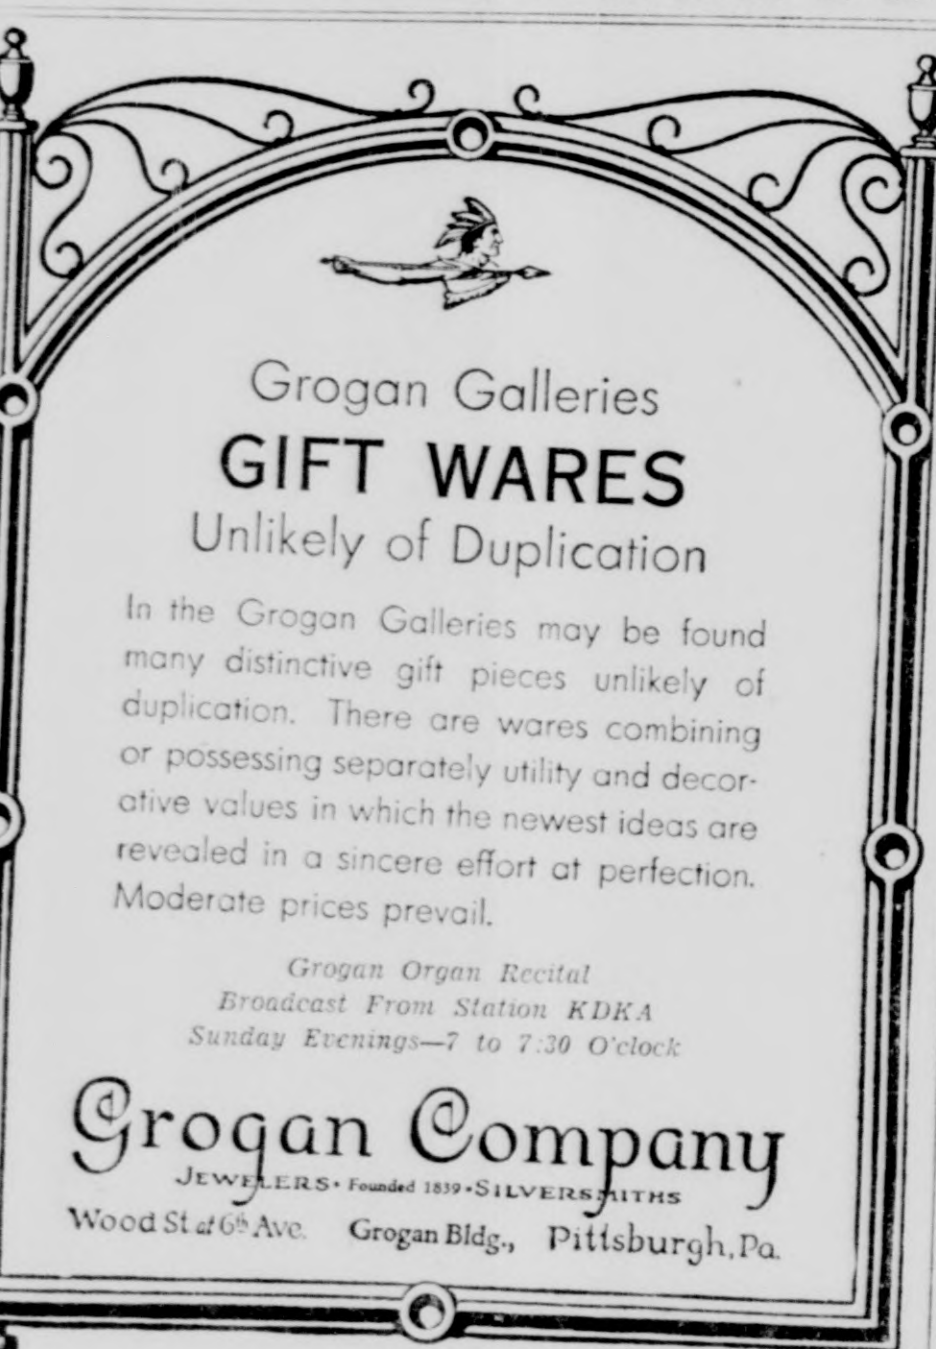

ROADS that cost less to build cost more to maintain. You can't expect anything else. The first year or two everything's fine—more miles of road are built, because the per mile cost of building is low.

But what happens later on? Maintenance costs eat a hole in the paving fund. Before long, the whole paving fund goes for maintenance. Not so with single track roads of portland cement concrete. Each year the paving fund builds more miles of new road—and keeps on building them indefinitely.

Pave with concrete for most mileage.

Artist Parent Visions Creative Opportunity In Rearing Children

Dr. Myers Thinks Mother May Express Self And Forget Household Drudgery Helping Youngsters Develop

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education, Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

Some young women looking for a means of self-expression and creativeness deliberately avoid marriage or, if married, avoid parenthood as a kind of hindrance to that end.

They think of the drudgery, self-denials and interference with their freedom imposed by child-bearing and child-rearing.

But they have seen only the mechanical and unattractive side of parenthood and family life, only the apparent liabilities. They have been blind to the assets. They have not recognized the opportunities for cultivating in themselves creative personalities and of endearing in a child limitless self-expression and creativeness. To the parent with a vision, the sky is the limit for self-realization and for creative genius.

An occasional mother has this vision. Even if she has no domestic help the household drudgery may lose its sting as all the while she invents new ways of teaching the toddler to amuse himself, sets the stage for his inventive powers to grow and his self-expression to develop. Consider the achievement of the mother who has led her little child to entertain himself for hours while she makes plans for the household, reads her choice books and magazines, prepares a speech or program for the club and even welcomes adult guests. The artist parent keeps herself in the background, knowing just when to step in, offering a suggestion or providing added tools for the young inventor.

In matters of the child's routine she allows him to wait upon himself to dress himself as soon as he is able, feed himself, bathe himself and acquire other routine habits independently.

By not satisfying nearly all his wishes, she teaches him not to have unnecessary wants which will make him forever a nuisance to others. Her skill is in discerning when to say "No," in making her decisions final and in avoiding unnecessary prohibitions.

She stimulates his inventive powers by approving his creations with a smile and word of praise. Then he goes on creating more. She is forever finding out new ways of helping him get satisfaction from activities which seem worthwhile to her and which are socially approved.

new ways of playing up his victories over difficulties, of rewarding effort and persistence in him, of leading him into new ventures of self-expression and creation, and of wisely celebrating his successes.

She has a keen imagination, sees and hears the fancies of the little child, walks and talks with them and creates new ones as the child creates. With this young creator she becomes a kindred dramatist, an actor with him on his ever changing stage; and she fills him full of fairy tales.

At her best this artist mother in providing playmates for her child in leading him to adjust himself happily to other children of his age to learn to take his own part, to stand up for his own rights, rarely to infringe upon the rights of other playmates, but to cooperate and to find his chief enjoyment socially.

FIRST STORY HOUR FRIDAY

Series Of Library Children's Story Hours Commence
Friday After School

Word of the library story hour is spreading among the children of local schools like music from the horn of the Pied Piper of Hamelin. The new and beautiful children's room of the New Castle free public library is the place; 4 o'clock on Friday evening is the time, and tales of fairies, dragons, princes, kings and pirates will be told by Miss Alice Joyce, children's librarian.

This will be the first of a series of story hours to be conducted this winter. In all probability a large crowd of youngsters from north, south, east and west will gather in the children's room on Friday evening.

The prettily decorated remodeled room is located under the south wing of the public library building. The gate entrance is on North street and a walk leads to the children's room. It is large, well lighted, well heated and is indeed ideal in every respect.

Local Men Will Fly To Florida

Hal Wright of Lorain avenue and Floyd Kelly of the Wright apartment left New Castle today for Pittsburgh, where they will take off from Bettis field by aeroplane for Miami, Fla., where they plan on spending the winter months.

Best baby in county!

Always happy and comfortable; free
from colds

COURSE every family has a "best" baby in it. But some babies are a lot nicer than others just the same. And that is so largely a matter of health. For psychologists and medical men say that good nature in babies is dependent largely on their comfort. They are too little to tell you what ails them. So they cry. And you have to guess it's a rash, or chafed skin, or a stuffed-up nose.

That is, you guess, unless you are wise enough to prevent these troubles with the handy "Vaseline" jar.

For "Vaseline" Petroleum Jelly is an essential part of any baby outfit. Apply it to the baby's skin after the bath; to the head too; then take little wads of cotton on toothpicks, dip it into the Jelly, and very gently apply to the baby's nostrils. This cleanses and lubricates. Tends to prevent colds.

These are easy, safe things to do. Ask your doctor. "Vaseline" Jelly has been used by mothers and doctors and hospitals for half a century.

Slogan Hunt Contest! Holds Interest For Many Boys And Girls

Interest Aroused By Announcement Of Prize Awards;
Y. M. C. A. Co-Sponsor

The Slogan Hunt Contest of the Ben Franklin Jr. Hi-Y with the cooperation of the Y. M. C. A. has brought scores of queries and many boys and girls throughout the city are writing 12-word sentences.

The contest will end on January 1. By that time all slogans must have been mailed to either Daniel Racioppo, advisor of the Hi-Y, 1029 Croton avenue, or to Saul Waldman, 1217 East Washington street.

The slogan is for the Ben Franklin Junior Hi-Y. The club is seeking a good slogan which must not consist of more than 12 words. Any boy or girl between the ages of 10 and 16 inclusive may try to win.

Prizes—twelve in number—will be awarded to the winners of the best slogans, according to Boys' Work Director Thomas of the "Y." Wrist watches, necklaces, a football, Y. M. C. A. memberships—these are some of the choice prizes.

Brighter Days!

You need not punish a sluggish system with purgatives that do violence. Just chew a pleasant Cascarets before bedtime. Next morning you'll be a new person. Candy Cascarets are made from cascara—which doctors say actually strengthens the bowel muscles. So their action is always beneficial. They clear up a stubborn, bilious, headachy and constipated condition every time. You awake with coating gone from tongue; with eyes brightened; breath sweetened; appetite on edge. For a bright morning, try a Cascarets tonight. Then you'll know why 20 million boxes are used every year.

Public Invited To See Library Book Exhibit

New books and new editions of old favorites make up the glorious display of brilliantly bound children's books in the new children's room of the local public library.

In observance of Book Week, this exhibit was arranged by Miss Alice Sterling, librarian and Miss Alice Joyce, children's librarian and the public has been invited to inspect the display.

Every day since Monday, when the exhibit was in place, a large number of local people have come to the library to see the books. The entrance is at the gate on North St. and around the building to the south. The new children's room is located under the south wing of the building.

Books for children are not the dull things they were years ago. Their subjects are chosen carefully, they vary widely, the print is large, the words within the scope of a child's learning and they are bound in beautiful blues, greens and scarlets and are full of gorgeous illustrations. Such illustrations as "Miss Pert's Christmas Tree" by J. Paget-

Frederick are most pleasing to the eyes of juvenile readers.

A large number of new books just off the press this season are included in the book exhibit. The "Happy Hour Series" will furnish amusement for hundreds of New Castle children in the coming year. This series contains stories of policemen, delivery men, motor men and postmen—people that every child admires and idolizes.

There are several new editions of "Alice in Wonderland" ever a popular book.

Miss Alice Sterling found on Wednesday that there are at least 4 different editions of Alice in Wonderland at this library. Interesting is the fact that the local library has on a shelf one of the earliest editions of that book ever printed—an 1872 edition. The first edition was printed in 1865, Miss Sterling finds.

Between the hours of 3 to 5 p. m. on Friday the children's room will be used for story hour and the exhibit will not be open to the public. But this afternoon and from 1 to 4 p. m. on Saturday it will be open.

Troopers Would Aid Benefit Plan

Cavalrymen Would Take Part In Program—Bradford Would Aid

D. Roy Bradford, operator of Bradford airport, and Capt. Harvey G. Bintrim said Wednesday that they are willing to co-operate for the purpose of putting on a benefit show for the unemployed of the city.

Both men announced their decisions to aid the jobless here following the meeting of the mayor's relief committee Tuesday in city hall. Capt. Bintrim said that his squad of cavalry rough riders are always available for any benefit and was particularly pleased when he heard the proposal of Bradford. The trick riding of the troopers under their instructor, Sergt. Willard Miller formerly of Ft. Meyer, Va., have thrilled hundreds at the Scotland Lane drilling field.

The troop officers believe that Taggart field would make an admirable location for a cavalry riding exhibit, which would be staged either before the game or between halves.

School Board Will Dine At Mahoning School Tonight

Members of the New Castle School Board, Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of public schools, and a few other special guests will be guests at a 6 o'clock dinner this evening in the Mahoning school model dining room.

The dinner will be prepared and served by the girls of 8A group of Mahoning school, under the supervision of the cooking instructor. There are only three girls in this class and they will probably be kept busy today preparing the dinner.

One day each week the girls of this class prepare and serve luncheon to six teachers of the school.

OVER TWO HUNDRED WILL TAKE PART IN SCHOOL PROGRAM

Pupils of Mahoning school have been busy for some time past rehearsing for an entertainment program, in which over 200 pupils of the school will take part. The entertainment is to be a circus—a real circus with a main show and side shows.

Next Monday afternoon Mahoning school pupils will have the opportunity of seeing the program. Tuesday evening of next week the program will be presented for parents and friends of the school pupils.

Hunter Pays For Game Education

Pays Heavy Fine For Transporting Rabbits, Which He Claims Others Owned

(International News Service)

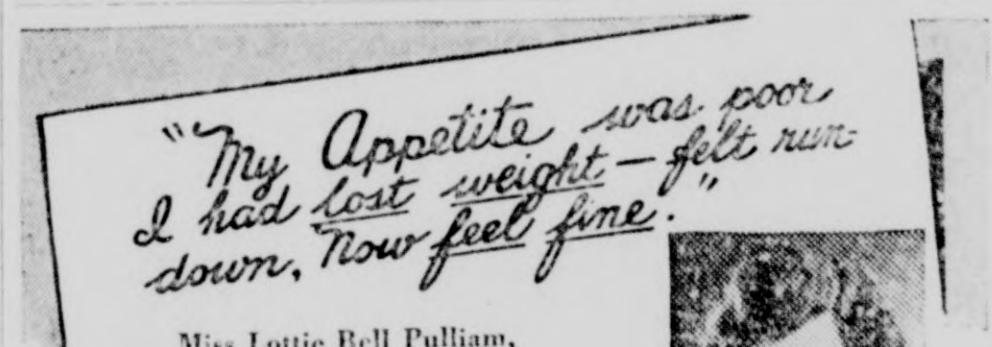

YORK, Pa., Nov. 20.—Fourteen rabbits are fourteen rabbits in the court of Justice of the Peace A. N. Shettel, whether you shot them yourself or not—and fourteen rabbits are above the legal game limit. "Policeman Joseph M. Rutter, of York, found that out. And it cost him $90 for the knowledge. Rutter was apprehended with 14 bunnies in his car the day the shooting season opened. He shot but four, he declared, and was carrying the others for four companions, none of whom had bagged more than the law allows. Justice Shettel held that as long as the rabbits were in Rutter's possession he was guilty of a game law violation, and imposed fines and costs totaling $90. Rutter stated he didn't know it was illegal to transport the rabbits.

Art is not the bread but the wine of life—Jean Paul Richter.

Miss Lottie Bell Pulliam, Knoxville, Tenn., writes:

"My appetite was poor. I had lost weight—was nervous and could not sleep well at night. In my rundown condition even my joints ached. I took seven large size bottles of S.S.S. It greatly improved my condition. My appetite picked up. My weight was restored and I now feel fine—in fact, I feel like a new person. S.S.S. is a splendid blood tonic and I recommend it to my friends. My mother also took S.S.S. and it renewed her strength."

S.S.S. is the Tonic that is daily helping thousands of weak, rundown, nervous people regain their strength and charm

MORE red-blood-cells and of the right quality! That's the answer to a rundown condition. They fight infection and disease. The way to regain them is to take S.S.S.—the tonic that will help Nature build up and enrich your blood. Then your appetite will pick up. Your skin will clear up. Your whole body will be strengthened, invigorated!

Don't wait until it is too late to correct a rundown condition. ANEMIA is DANGEROUS. Take S.S.S. before each meal. Its successful record of over 100 years in building red-cells in the blood is a guarantee of satisfaction. Get the large size. At all drug stores.

Major E. M. Vale Plans To Retire

Chief Of Bureau Of Public Convenience Will Retire On January 1

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 20.—Major E. M. Vale, chief of the bureau of public convenience of the public service commission, today announced his intention to retire from the state service on January 1, next.

Major Vale entered the state service during the existence of the railroad commission which preceded creation of the public service commission on January 1, 1913. He will be eligible for a state employee's pension but will practice law in this city.

In the absence of members of the commission, Major Vale has often conducted hearings of the public service body in his capacity of chief examiner.

The Vale resignation is the first of those who were active in the recent campaign for John M. Hempfl, Democratic-Liberal nominee for governor.

Lutheran Women On Interesting Trips At Meeting

Election Of Officers To Take Place At December Meeting Of Lutheran Mission
Body

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 20.—Members of the Women's Missionary Society of the Trinity Lutheran church had several fine tours at their regular monthly meeting of the society which took place Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. O. W. Meisel. Under the guidance of the Misses Ellen and Marcia Whitacker, the entire society took a trip to the Racine convention which was held recently, and the biennial convention of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Lutheran church. Different members of the society took up the various types of work represented in the society and gave interesting reports. They stated that the last meeting was important in that it was the first gathering in which all local and foreign fields sent representatives. The climax of the convention was reached, they announced, when three young Lutheran church women were commissioned for foreign service in the mission field.

They returned to Ellwood City from the convention only to set sail again for the Synodical convention held recently in Kittanning. Mrs. John Strohecker and Miss Margaret Blank, who were delegates, gave a good account of their impressions of the meetings.

Under the head of new business the society voted to give a donation to the Kommarock Training school in Virginia, instead of the customary Christmas exchange this year. They also voted to send Christmas cards to the inmates of the Old Ladies home in Zelienople.

Members of the nominating committee were selected as follows: Mesdames V. P. Gray, Harry Felton, Henry Eicholtz. These will present names to be voted on at the December meeting of the society.

Mrs. E. C. Wilson Entertains Club

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 20.—Mrs. E. C. Wilson of Crescent avenue entertained the members of the Polyantha club Wednesday afternoon at her home. There were 15 members present and four visitors.

At the conclusion of a business meeting, games and contests were enjoyed and were won by Mrs. Harry Anderson, Mrs. Ira West and Mrs. Leonard Nagle.

Later delicious refreshments were enjoyed and Mrs. Kissick and Mrs. Henry assisted the hostess.

On December 17, Mrs. Ira West will entertain and there will be a Christmas exchange of gifts.

Charged With Embezzlement

Mrs. Hilda E. Schroeder (right), also known as Mrs. George Gibbitt and Ruth Chaney, 48, was arrested at Philadelphia, Pa., and charged with embezzlements amounting to $400.-$500. A short time later a man named John Naughton (left), 40, was arrested and held on a similar charge. They now await extradition to Illinois, where they are alleged to have engaged in spurious real estate deals. (International Newsreel)

Christmas Club Funds Lower This Year Than Last

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 20.—The amounts of the Christmas club funds have been secured from two banks, and each is said to be a trifle lower than the amounts last year. The First National Bank will distribute $35,000 among 100 club members this year. It is expected that the checks will be issued about the first week in December. The exact date will be set by the Bankers Association.

At the Peoples Bank the club fund amounted to $21,000, a little lower than last year.

Special Songs At Church Of God

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 20.—There will be a special song service at the Church of God this evening at 7:30 instead of the usual hour of 7:45 p. m.

A live song program will be conducted by Rev. Slacum in charge. Mr. Baker and Mr. Wheel of New Castle will favor the public with their fine duets. Also Mr. and Mrs. Furry of New Castle will render duets.

Last evening Rev. Kemplin spoke on the subject "The Positive Side of the Christian Life." Last evening the male quartet composed of Herbert Reynolds, Axel Engstrom, L. E. Slacum and J. V. Rabberman sang "The Best Thing to Have is Salvation." The mixed quartet composed of Rev. and Mrs. Slacum, Loretta King and J. V. Rabberman sang "I Can Trust Him Through the Billows Roll." A fine duet was rendered by Minnie Bookamer and Edna Engstrom. "Don't Turn Him Away." Rev. and Mrs. Slacum sang a duet, "He Calls Thee."

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 20.—The Lehman party whose voices are so well known over the radio from the Franklin Gospel tabernacle, will be at the First Baptist church of Ellwood City on Friday night, November 21, at 7:30 o'clock.

The Mason Jubilee Singers will also be present.

L. P. Lehman, Sr., will direct the music and have charge of the platform for the service.

There will be another meeting to-night and Rev. Elliott, the pastor, will preach.

Primary Ballots For Chamber Directors Are Turned In Here

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 20.—The primary ballots for the election of four new directors of the Chamber of Commerce are practically all in today, which is the closing date. The 12 highest of these names, will be selected and re-mailed to the members of the Chamber.

When the final ballots return the four men receiving the highest number of votes out of the 12 are automatically elected to the directorship.

The results will be announced at the annual meeting of the Chamber which is scheduled to take place December 5.

Knox Revivals Continue Here

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 20.—Revival services at the Knox Presbyterian church continue all the week until Saturday. The services have been very successful and have been attracting large attendances each evening.

Last night Rev. J. C. Steele delivered a fine sermon as guest pastor of the evening. P. W. Blocher and his daughter Miss Mary Blocher sang two duet numbers, greatly adding to the success of the evening.

Tonight Mrs. Kimmel and Mrs. Slade will sing, and the guest pastor will be Rev. Dr. Axtell of New Brighton.

LAD INJURED

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 20.—Calvin Cole, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cole of the Ellwood-New Castle road, was rather seriously injured two days ago when the electric saw, which he was operating in the basement of his home, slipped and cut a deep gash on his knee, which necessitated several clamps. Calvin is resting as comfortably as can be expected, and is under a doctor's care.

Dies of Wounds in Other Woman's Apartment

A knife plunged seven inches into her body and through the heart caused the death of this beautiful wife of a wealthy Portland, Oregon, broker, Nelson C. Bowles, at the apartment of Miss Irma G. Loucks, 25, said to have been a stenographer-sweetheart of Bowles. Mrs. Bowles was but 33 years old. (International Newsreel)

Plans to Wed Flier

The Baroness Barbara von Kalkreuth of Germany admitted her plans to marry Colonel James Fitzmaurice, Irish transatlantic flier in the plane "Bremen," after Fitzmaurice obtains a divorce from his present wife.

Special Meetings Are Successful

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 20.—The special meetings at the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church are continuing to draw larger crowds each evening. Rev. Elliott preached an eloquent sermon last evening on "The Inevitable Judgement." Mrs. Paul Elliott and Miss Louise Steets contributed a lovely duet number as part of the musical program.

There will be another meeting to-night and Rev. Elliott, the pastor, will preach.

BRADEN CIRCLE MEETING

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 20.—The regular monthly meeting of the Mary Braden Circle of the Wurtemburg U. P. church met Tuesday.

The devotional service which was in charge of Mrs. Earl Hollerman, was followed by a social period. Fine refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Lewis Wagner. A special program will be given by the society on the evening of November 30, in observance of Thanksgiving Day.

The next meeting of the Society will be held at the home of Miss Irene Falen on the evening of December 2.

BOOK EXHIBIT

IS IN WINDOW

An exhibit of library children's books has been placed in a window of the Pennsylvania Power company, and is attracting much attention from the passers-by. The display was placed there in observance of Book Week.

KOPPEL

ATTEND RECITAL

Miss Charlotte Richter of Koppel who is studying music at Geneva College participated in a recital held at the College, Tuesday evening by Miss Waddle the music teacher there.

MISSIONARY MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society was held at the home of Mrs. Wade Stewart, Tuesday evening. Mrs. C. Sherman was in charge of the meeting and Mrs. Wm. Hall was in charge of the devotional service.

Two special features of the meeting were duets by Misses Grace Law and Agnes Blythe and a very interesting talk by Miss Beulah Wilson of Pocomtucket. Her main topics being her attendance at the Passion Play and some of her experiences while in Europe.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess assisted by her sister, Miss Louise Martin.

KOPPEL NOTES

Paul Galer of Mars visited friends in Koppel Tuesday.

Rehearsal for the minstrel was held Tuesday evening in the M. E. Church of Koppel, by the mens glee club.

A meeting of the literary society of the Koppel Eighth grade was held Tuesday afternoon in the school.

HIGHLIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

10. George Rogers Clark—The Kentucky Claims

AT THE OUTBREAK OF THE REVOLUTIONARY WAR IN 1775 THE WHOLE TERRITORY OF KENTUCKY WAS CLAIMED BY SEVERAL LAND COMPANIES AND THE STATE OF VIRGINIA, THE LATTER BASING HER CLAIMS UPON THE TERMS OF HER ORIGINAL CHARTER.

WITH INDIAN RAIDS A CONSTANT MENACE, MOST KENTUCKIANS WISHED FOR THE SUPPORT AND PROTECTION THAT ONLY A POWERFUL STATE COULD GIVE.

IN JUNE, 1776, A CONVENTION MEETING AT HARRODSBURG ADDRESSED A PETITION TO THE VIRGINIA ASSEMBLY PROTESTING THE CLAIMS OF THE VARIOUS LAND COMPANIES AND ASKING THAT VIRGINIA TAKE KENTUCKY UNDER HER WING.

(Copyright, 1930, by J. Carroll Mansfield)

THE CONVENTION CHOSE YOUNG CAPTAIN CLARK AND GABRIEL JONES TO CARRY THE PETITION TO THE VIRGINIA LEGISLATURE. THE TWO DELEGATES MADE THE LONG, HAZARDOUS JOURNEY SAFELY, BUT DID NOT REACH WILLIAMSBURG UNTIL AFTER THE LEGISLATURE HAD ADJOURNED.

CLARK VISITED GOVERNOR PATRICK HENRY AND OTHER PROMINENT LEADERS AND URGED THEM TO AID AND SUPPORT THE KENTUCKY SETTLEMENTS, WHICH STOOD LIKE A BULWARK SHELTERING WESTERN VIRGINIA FROM THE BLOODY AND DESTRUCTIVE RAIDS OF THE INDIANS.

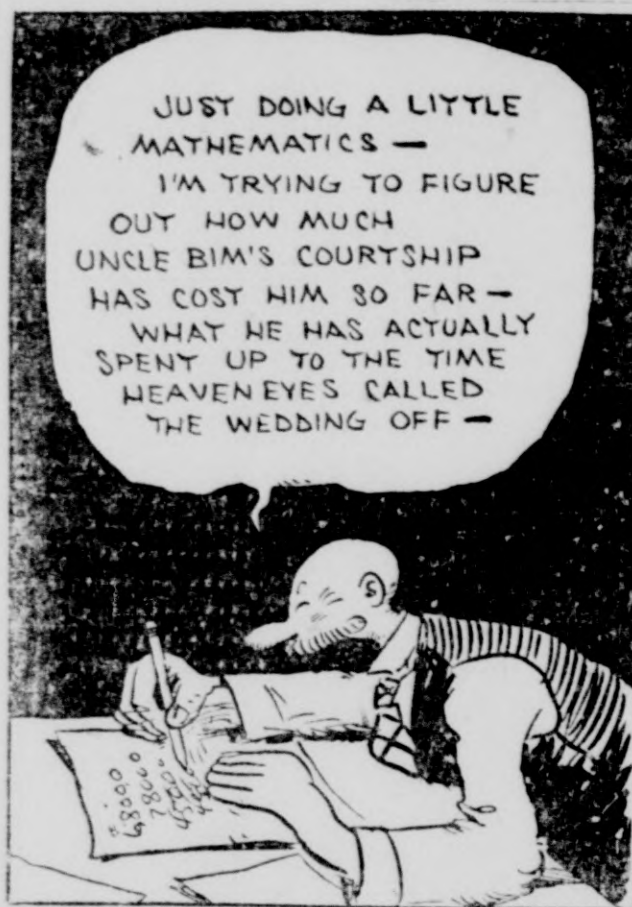

THE GOVERNOR'S COUNCIL AGREED TO SUPPLY THE KENTUCKIANS WITH AMMUNITION, AND 500 POUNDS OF POWDER WAS SENT TO FORT PITT TO BE CALLED FOR BY THE SETTLERS. IN DECEMBER, 1776, THE LEGISLATURE, AFTER A LONG DEBATE, PASSED A BILL MAKING KENTUCKY A COUNTY OF VIRGINIA.

Petrolle Must Beat McLarnin For Title Bout

Tony Canzoneri Will Give Petrolle Chance At Title

If He Beats McLarnin

NORTH DAKOTA BOY IS GOOD

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Billy Petrolle will get his first title shot if he makes a good showing against Jimmy McLarnin in their brawl at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

Tom McArdle, Garden matchmaker, and Sammy Goldman, manager of Tony Canzoneri, have agreed to give Petrolle a crack at Canzoneri's newly-acquired lightweight crown if he beats McLarnin or gives him a close battle. And this despite the fact that Billy handed Tony a stiff lacing in Chicago earlier this year.

Leading Contender.
Petrolle couldn't have been furnished with a greater incentive. With Billy and the lightweight title it has been a case of always a bridesmaid, never a bride. Although ranked as a leading contender for years, the Fargo Express never has had a legitimate chance to win the championship. He won a newspaper decision over Mandel in 1928, but Sammy's title was not at stake. All that victory earned him was a healthy load of respect.

The fact that McLarnin has been installed a 1 to 3 favorite means no more to Petrolle than a punch on the elbow. The Fargo slugger will be throwing leather from the minute he sheds his brown and yellow Indian blanket at the opening gong tomorrow night. Both boys pack dynamite in their gloves and the scrap has no more chance of lasting the limit than a modern marriage.

"The way to beat McLarnin is to crowd him and keep throwing left hooks," Petrolle said today as he wound up training. "That's the way Dad Taylor, Ray Miller and Doc Snell beat him and that's the way I'll whip him."

McLarnin Heaviest.
McLarnin has looked good because he always picks on lighter men. He took on somebody his own weight when he fought Jack Thompson and Thompson belted him all over the ring. McLarnin will have six or seven pounds on me but I'll be faster at my natural weight of 135 or 136 than I would be at 139 or 140."

Petrolle has never laid eyes on McLarnin and the pleasure of the meeting may not be all his. Billy has made a great come back this year. However, last September he decided he had been fighting too often and took a long rest. Since returning to the fight scene in February, he has scored ten knockouts in fourteen starts, losing only the last one when he dropped a close decision to Jack Kid Berg.

Must Beat Jinx.
The Fargo flyer hopes to chase the jinx which has marked his ring appearance in Gotham. He has not lost more than a dozen fights since he started pushing leather eight years ago and half of his defeats were incurred in New York, most of the decisions being off color.

If Petrolle spills the Frijoles tomorrow evening, the so-called wise money is going to take a terrific shelling. The smart boys who laid 4 to 1 on Kid Chocolate against Fidel La Barba and 3 to 1 on Al Singer against Tony Canzoneri are out to recoup their losses. If they go down for the third time tomorrow, the local pawnshops will do a rushing business.

Forecasting fight results is getting to be such a tough racket that Broadwayites have about decided to switch to something easy like picking the winner out of a limit field of maiden two-year-olds at Bowie.

There certainly is sense 't' that sign at 'th' edge of one 'th' town which reads, "Drive slow an' see our chickens—drive fast an' see our coop."

Michaels Out Of Bethany Game; Shoulder Injured

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 20.—

Harry Michaels, Turtle Creek, fullback on the Westminster football team, will not be able to play Saturday when the Titans close the season against Bethany College at Bethany, W. Va.

Michaels had his shoulder dislocated in the second quarter of the Thiel game. At first it was thought that the shoulder was broken, but X-ray pictures did not show a break.

In Michael's place, James Perrin of Avella may get the call. It may be that Hady will replace Hamas at right halfback and that Hamas will be given the fullback post. This would leave Harper, Ketterer, and Shaffer for the left halfback and quarter positions.

The Westminster team will leave Friday afternoon by train for Washington, Pa., and from there will travel to Bethany by bus. A squad of 18 men will make the trip. Graduate Manager Andy McDonald announced.

Spying On Sports

By WILLIAM RITT

Central Press Sports Editor

When that august body, the national football rules committee, is in convention assembled to discuss what's to be done and NOT to be done to the gridiron game, it is a pretty safe bet that somebody is going to pipe up with:

"And now, how about this here point after touchdown?"

Ye olde point-after-touchdown has been one of the football bones of contention for years, the cause of almost as much out-of-season debate as that other hardy perennial, the shift. And this year the p. a. t. wreaked much havoc to quite a number of football teams the coaches of which are not likely to forget that the point cost their out-fits considerable glory.

The point-after-touchdown squabbles are divided into two distinct camps and both have good reasons for their stand.

Camp one harbors the anti-pointers who assert that the p. a. t. is not an actual part of the game, that it adds too much to the element of luck in football.

Camp two (the pro-pointers) declares that if a team wins by a successful try for point it deserves victory because it had definite superiority over the other eleven in that it scored a point when the losers couldn't, though given the same chance.

What may cause extra discussion of the point problem by the committee is the fact that this season two very important titles were lost through two teams failing to make the point good. Purdue lost its chance to tie for the Western conference title by losing to Michigan 14-13, and Southern California lost a chance to tie for the Pacific coast title by losing to Washington State 7-6.

Both of these games were of the highest importance of any played this season, the damage or good, depending on what team you root for, that has been done this season by the point rule is naturally exaggerated.

In a check-up of more than 30 "major league" teams and all the games they have played it has been discovered that only 20 games out of an enormous total played by the 30 eleven resulted in victories through point after touchdown.

Alphabetically listed these games were:

California 7, St. Mary's 6.
Colorado 14, Colorado college 13.
Davidson 7, North Carolina 6.
Furman 14, Florida 13.
Georgetown 14, Michigan State 13.
Georgia 7, New York 6.
Haskell 13, Oklahoma A. and M. 12.
Michigan 14, Purdue 13.
Missouri 14, Drake 13.
Nebraska 13, Iowa State 12.
Pittsburgh 7, Carnegie Tech 6.
Purdue 7, Wisconsin 6.
Rice 13, Sam Houston 12.
South Carolina 7, Louisiana State 6.

South Carolina 14, Sewanee 13.
Temple 7, Bucknell 6.
W. and J. 7, Bucknell 6.
Washington State 7, Southern California 6.

Carideo Called Football Genius

Quarterback On Notre Dame Team Is Most Outstanding Of Present Season

NORTHWESTERN WILL GET TEST

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK Nov. 20.—If this be reason, be as merciful as possible, but after due and calm consideration, the final deduction we reached today in a first-rate struggle with pride and prejudice is that Notre Dame will defeat Northwestern on Saturday.

There does not seem to be any question that Knute Rockne has built the almost perfect team this fall and in every way with the possible exception of brute force and power in the line, the Irish rate superior to the Purple. But Coach Hanley, like Rockne, is one of the country's most capable mentors and has turned out a machine at Evansville which on paper is hardly less impressive than that of the Ramblers.

Carideo Is Genius
The superiority of Frank Carideo as a team director over either Bob Hanley or anyone the Purple may elect, probably will be the winning factor for Notre Dame.

Singing the praises of Carideo one may start off by calling him the greatest field general of the season but in addition he is a first rate defensive player and one of the best blockers of the game.

The stiff opposition that Carideo has always met in leading the Ramblers makes him a more experienced director than anyone he will oppose Saturday. His ability to mingle plays, calling for the right one at the right spot and using the man most naturally equipped to deliver, has been a mighty factor in the progress of the South Bend machine this fall. He has approached positive genius in picking weaknesses of the enemy.

Of course the purple host have an excellent chance to crack Rockne's team, but their position of attack does not seem as attractive as that of Southern California. After the Purple and the Army get through with the Irish, the Trojans should stand in a fair way to knock them off.

SUE TO COLLECT ON PAINTING CONTRACT

J. L. and F. L. Wimer, trading as J. L. Wimer and son, painting contractors, have filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against Anna Rohl to collect a bill of $381.25. Of this amount $230 was for painting the outside of a house at 811 Highland avenue, $150 for rubbing and varnishing the floors and the balance for other work.

Walsh Gets Credit For Yale Line Work

LINE COACH AT YALE, WHO IS CREDITED WITH THE FINE PERFORMANCES OF THE SMALL SQUAD

By JACK SORDS
Central Press Sports Artist

THOUGH he was never a Yale star, Adam Walsh today finds himself an Eli hero. The former Notre Dame line star is receiving loads of praise in New Haven these days and for a reason.

The splendid line play which has helped in a great measure to further Yale football hopes this season is due to the coaching of Walsh, who is head man among the Blue forward wall mentors.

Captain and center of the great line which made the wild rampages of the brilliant four Horsemen possible, Walsh has brought to Yale his football brains and the results have been happy ones for the Blue this year.

At the start of this season Walsh had a tough job. He had one good line, but that's all. Capable substitutes were scarce. Since he has developed the varsity line to a point where substitutions are unnecessary save in cases of injury. He has also developed some capable substitutes.

It was the fine line play of the Yale forwards that stopped the cannon-ball attacks of Army and Dartmouth and enabled Yale, a team that went into each game the underdog, to gain an even break in both contests.

Among the first-class linemen playing for Yale this year are Captain Fay Vincent, Truxton Hare, Freddy Looser and Fred Linehan, and all are Walsh-trained men.

to appropriate enforcement funds, "would make a farce and travesty" of the federal constitution, according to Congressman Hamilton Fish, Jr., of New York.

Fish made the assertion in a statement, which he issued last night in lieu of a speech he was to have delivered at a dinner of a Republican organization. Tickets for the affair cost $7, which Fish said was too high, causing cancellation of the dinner.

Prohibition is not a fundamental principle of the Republican party, Fish said, and he advocated modification of the Volstead Act to permit sale of four percent beer.

Harvard-Yale To 'Battle Saturday

Traditional Rivals Will Battle Saturday In New Haven Bowl

YALE ELEVEN IS FAVORITE

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—No matter what one says or thinks of the football teams of Yale and Harvard that meet Saturday afternoon in New Haven, tradition will have its way.

If you don't believe it, well, New York is sending 21 special trains to New Haven on Saturday. And tradition will play a heavy role this week-end particularly for Cambridge, for without its ballyhoo Harvard would have little on which to fling aloft the red banners. The Harvard warriors have a doleful record that reveals defeats by Army, Dartmouth, Michigan, and Holy Cross and even a tie with tiny but valiant William and Mary.

Yale Favored

This year Harvard of course is the under dog and the chances are the crimson will cast aside all the convention and calmness that has marked its rather ranged play during the season and resort to a bold air game in an effort to win.

Last week Trix Bennett, Princeton quarter, was the thorn in Yale's side and this week Barry Wood may be the blue brier. Wood has had an unfortunate season. He has not directed the crimson with any of the generalship that might have been expected from him and he has almost failed completely in attaining the threat he promised last season with the forward pass. He showed some fine passes in the Michigan game and if he is in that same form Saturday he can outpace Albie Booth or Taylor to a Harvard win.

It, as some expect, the game develops into a purely air affair, the chances would favor Harvard, superior to the blue on both offense and defense in the air. The crimson proved this against Michigan showing a brilliant air offense and almost entirely stopping the West-erners' much-heralded overhead attack.

Millions Suffer From Handicaps

Millions Of Children In Country Suffer Handicaps, Says Secretary Davis

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—While there should be no socially handicapped children in the United States the nation would be foolish to ignore the fact that there are not only thousands but millions of American children who suffer from real handicaps, James J. Davis, secretary of Labor, told the White House conference on child health and protection today. Davis is vice chairman of the conference.

Davis, in making this statement, said he was thinking of the more than 500,000 children who must look to the community for care and maintenance of the more than 200,000 who were dealt with by the juvenile courts last year, and hundreds of thousands of others "who are on the road to dependency and neglect and will finally fill our jails and almshouses."

"If we could put into practice what is now known about safeguarding the health of children, preventing dependency and delinquency, providing opportunities for wholesome group activities, we could in a single generation, profoundly improve the whole character of our national life," he said.

Cranks His Car While It's In Gear

Thomas W. Johnston, 71, In Hospital, As Result Of Accident This Morning

Thomas W. Johnston, aged 71 years, of New Wilmington, R. D. No. 1, is in the Jameson Memorial hospital, somewhat out and bruised, and suffering considerably from shock as the result of a peculiar accident this morning, shortly after 9 o'clock.

He had stopped his car at a service station at Walmo, and secured some gasoline. When he got into the machine to start it, the starter failed to work. He got out and cranked the machine, and the engine started, but the car had apparently been left in gear, and he was knocked down and injured as the machine moved forward.

On account of his age, the shock of the accident is most serious.

General Summerall Ends Active Career

Major General Douglas MacArthur Becomes New Chief Of Staff

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Gen. Charles P. Summerall of Eufaula, Fla., chief of staff for the past four years, closed his active career as a soldier today. Tomorrow Maj. Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who has been commandant of the Philippine Department since 1928 will be sworn as his successor.

Summerall will be relieved of active duty after today. Next March 4 he will depart under the regulation compelling retirement at the age of 64.

MacArthur is 50 and is one of the youngest men ever appointed to the office.

NEW IDEA IN SHAVING

HERE'S the first real razor news in 20 years! We've discovered a brand new shaving principle. Not just an improvement—not just a new razor—we have designed and patented a precision instrument for shaving that puts everything that has gone before in the antique class.

You may think you have the best. You may have recently switched to a new razor. But when you change to the new Gem Micromatic, you will find your shaving absolutely glorified!

All One Piece

Listen! Imagine a razor that's all one piece—nothing to take apart—easy to load and clean—the easiest razor in the world to use.

Amazingly Simple

You twist the handle and the razor mysteriously opens. You slip in the blade, twist the handle again, and the razor closes—automatically the blade moves into the correct shaving position and is locked there. It is held in a vise-like grip at five points—absolutely rigid—no vibration.

Surgical Steel Blade

Imagine this patented Gem Micromatic Blade of a new steel—surgical steel—so keen that it smooths away your whiskers without your skin even feeling it. Imagine a blade so long-lasting that it gives you many more shaves than you ever had from any blades before.

Marvelous Shaves

But even now, you have but a faint idea how wonderful the new Gem Micromatic Razor and Blades are. Only when you hold it in your hand—only when you actually feel these soft, swift strokes down your cheeks—only then can you realize how these new patents transform shaving.

Superb Set $1

Your dealer now has a special introductory set consisting of the Gem Micromatic Razor and five Gem Micromatic Blades—presented in a rich modern case. This superb outfit built throughout to $5 specifications is offered for a limited period at $1. Get yours without fail today.

Product of AMERICAN SAFETY RAZOR CORP.
BROOKLYN, N. Y.

Automatically locks blade in correct shaving position.

ONE PIECE. Nothing to take apart. TWIST IT and it opens. TWIST IT and it closes.

Sharon Banker Pleads Guilty To Embezzling

Indictment Drawn Up Charging Matthews With Embezzlement Has Been Signed

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., Nov. 20.—District Attorney Leo H. McKay, announced today that R. E. Matthews, Sharon, banker had signed a plea of guilty to charges of embezzlement made by the Dollar Title & Trust Co., Sharon.

Matthews has been confined in the Mercer county jail, since his surrender on charges several days ago. In the presence of the District Attorney and banking officials Matthews signed the plea.

Sentence will be not be passed upon Matthews until all charges made against the former bank cashier have been investigated thoroughly by the state bank examiners. In the event of any further defalcations being uncovered, a new indictment will be drawn up containing the new charge.

NEWSIES HOLD MONTHLY DINNER ON WEDNESDAY

A study of humanity could have been made last evening at the Y. M. C. A. boys department as one watched eager faces of newsboys as they emerged from the swimming pool to the boy's department. Billiards, ping-pong, checkers, and social games held the interest of the newsies until the first dinner of the season was ready for them.

The meeting was in charge of John Delaverson. It is easier and handier for men to flatter than to praise.—Jean Paul Richter.

WITH THE SMILE OF VICTORY

"Ship" Madigan, coach of the powerful St. Mary's eleven from Oakland, Calif., reading to four of his boys the numerous telegrams congratulating them on their hard fought but decisive victory over the "unbeaten" Fordham University team with a score of 20 to 12. Seated on arms of chair are, "Woody" Poebles (left) and Bud Toscani, while in rear are, Adam Weisgerber and Bill Coyle. It was Fordham's first defeat in two years.

Ship Huge Girders Out Of Leetsdale Within Few Days

Seven flat cars will be required to transport two of the largest steel girders ever to be shipped over the Pennsylvania lines, which will start from the McClintock-Marshall company at Leetsdale for their journey to Toledo, O. within the next few days.

The huge beams, each 134 feet long and 2 feet wide, will be used in the construction of a new bridge over the Main river, near Toledo. They will be taken over the Pennsylvania's Fort Wayne division through Eron Valley.

You're the JUDGE

The Decision

The court held that Mrs. Ferston need not pay the other $25, but that the building owner need not return the down payment.

The judges reasoned thus: The fulfillment of the contract became impossible through no fault of either of the parties. The law is that once let the parties where they were and relieved both of them from further performance of the contract.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Industrial And Utility Stocks Move Forward

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Industrial stock and utilities forged ahead to the best levels of the movement in the first hour today. The rise was halted by a new wave of profit taking and short selling, but not until new advances of a point or more had been recorded in a number of the favorites and practically all of the ground lost in the Monday, and Tuesday reaction recovered.

United States Steel was a strong leader for the bulls, advancing more than a point to 148½, thus duplicating the best price recorded last week. Loews forged ahead to 61¾ for a gain of 2 points in anticipation of an increase in the cash dividend either today or later in the year. General Electric reached a new high on the move at 51½; and Chrysler above 19. Consolidated Gas, Columbia, United Corp., United Gas Improvement and other active Industrials spurred a point or less.

Stock sales in the first hour exceeded 400,000 shares, but the rush to buy stocks was not as vigorous in the second hour, and the activity of the market halted. There were few new developments in the business world. Railroad heads displayed little enthusiasm over the reported efforts of the commerce commission to agitate for the repeal of the recapture law. Better buying of automobiles was reflected in the strength and activity of motor shares, General Motors moving up 1½ to 37.

Grain sold fractionally higher, but Cotton was unchanged in the early trading. Money was in good supply at 2 per cent.

CRUEL METHOD EMPLOYED BY OWNER OF DOG

Police Officers Rescue Dog That Is Abandoned In River By Its Owner

The meanest man is now believed by the police department to be the individual, who late yesterday took his dog, evidently his own property, to the Shenango river and abandoned it on a pier of the old Gardner avenue bridge, tying it there so that it could not get away, if it did have a chance.

Indication are that the person responsible for this inhuman act, was making sure of getting rid of the animal as it made of necessity have been drowned or starved to death, had it not been for the kind hearts and strenuous efforts of two local police officers, who rescued the dog with considerable trouble on their part.

Officer Bud Fleeger had a call to the effect that there was a dog stranded on a rock at the second pier of the old Gardner avenue bridge.

He and Officer Robert Dukes went to the scene and tried to get the dog, finally succeeding.

They found that the animal was tied to a stone in the middle pier of the old bridge.

Officer Fleeger went to his home, a short distance away and secured his highboots and waded across from the far side of the Shenango river and took off the dogs collar and chain, after Dukes had made an effort in which he lassoed the dog and tried to pull him across the river, which was found to be impossible as the chain of the dog held tight to the bricks to which it was tied.

When Officer Fleeger had released the dog and put a rope around him, Officer Dukes was successful in pulling the dog across the river and to safely on the river bank.

In order to get to the dog, Fleeger had not only to wade the river but had to scale the second pier in order to let the dog loose.

Farm Board In Need Of Funds

Administration Will Ask Congress For Appropriation For Farm Board

STIFF OPPOSITION IS LOOKED FOR

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The administration will ask congress for a huge appropriation to enable the federal farm board to carry out its present policy of stabilizing wheat prices by open market purchases of the surplus, it was learned today.

Senator Watson, Republican leader of the senate, announced he would lead the fight to secure "any appropriation" asked by Alexander Legge, board chairman, to complete present buying operations, launched ten days ago to stabilize wheat prices. The board's campaign has resulted in the purchase of more than 100,000,000 bushels to date and may total several hundred million bushels.

Opposition Seen.
The policy of a federal agency buying wheat will develop stiff opposition in both house and senate, but the administration very likely will get the necessary funds. Watson announced he would "back Legge to the hilt" for the present but that he disapproved of the policy as a permanent program for the relief of agriculture. Some Democratic opposition to the program also developed. Senator King (D) of Utah announced he would oppose further appropriations along this line and hinted he favored abolition of the farm board.

The administration's program will be definitely announced after the conference next week between government officials and farm organization leaders. The program will include a definite appropriation for the farm board and probably a statement outlining how far Legge intends to go, and what he plans ultimately to do with the surplus.

Stirring Service At Primitive Church

A stirring service was held Wednesday evening in the Primitive Methodist church when Rev. C. F. Smith brought the message. Rev. Smith is a "live wire" for God and he presented his sermon in such a manner that his truths were brought home to every heart. He preached on "Naaman, the Leper." Dan and Celia Hughes gave a duet, "They Are Nailed to the Cross" and there was special music by the Sunday school classes.

"Finding God" will be Rev. Smith's subject for this evening at 7:30 and there will be special music.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

There is a Santa Claus. Whether you believe he wears whiskers or a goatee there still remains no doubt of the existence of the old fellow and the proof of it is on the Mill street bridge. The street department has had Henry Golder's men at work there, crushing limestone into the wooden block floor and now you can drive over without fear of tail spinning into a plate glass window.

For years the wooden block flooring has been a genuine menace. On dry days it was fairly safe if you turned off or onto the bridge with as much care as you would juggle a dozen eggs. But on wet days—There never was a car that could make that turn without skidding and anything over six miles an hour was an invitation to attend a hospital party.

Fender have been according pleased, wheels have been broken off, and dispositions have been reduced to pulp by that wooden block flooring. New tires were a bit better than smooth ones, but not much, and if it happened to be a heavy rain, you crossed the bridge with your heart in your mouth, and a prayer on your lips.

But that's all over now. They hauled a lot of crushed limestone onto the bridge, then run a heavy roller over it and pressed it into the wood. Feels like a macadam road without the oil dressing, and a lot of motorists called the city councilmen blessed, as they drove over last night without feeling their cars sliding away from them.

Old Man Dante wrote his "Inferno" too soon. All those stages of the place that he planned out for various crimes and misdemeanors would have to be revised were he writing today. And one of the lower levels would be reserved for the kind of people who torture dogs.

One of the tribe tried a new way of torture yesterday afternoon and Police Officers Bud Fleeger and Bob Dukes would like to meet the individual. They saved the dog's life but they also came close to ruining their uniforms.

Last night a call was received at the station that a dog was out on one of the old Gardner avenue bridge piers in the Mahoning River, apparently unable to get off. Fleeger and Dukes to the rescue.

Arriving at the scene they saw the dog out on the pier but no amount of whistling or calling would get him off. Dukes tried to lasso him but his old cowboy skill failed. Fleeger went home and got a pair of hip boots and wading out to the pier found the poor cur chained to a rock.

Wading out to the pier he found that some one had chained the dog there, looping a wire around the rock apparently with the idea that high water would come down and drown him. And yet we send missionaries to the heathen.

The two officers got the dog loose and as he waded out to shore the pup licked the officers' hands as though trying to thank them for their kindness.

The dog isn't a thoroughbred. The breed of him is rather indifferent. There is some police in him, some setter, and a lot of just mutt. But torturing him that way makes the Spanish inquisition look like a basket picnic.

There are far too many dogs in parts of the city, but there is a way of doing away with them without torture. The police department will send an officer out to shoot stray dogs and their agony is only momentary. But to chain any kind of an animal out on a rock in the river, knowing that the death would be slow and the torture hideous is just another reason why the old style whipping post should be brought back.

In the past two days several people have brought in reports of the pretty windows at the Oak Street school and along with the report came an invitation to go out and take a look. That's on the slate for today.

Up at the corner of Butler avenue and East Washington streets there is a cut off leading from one street to the other which saves making the corner. But thus far the motorists seem to believe that it is a private driveway or something. Most of them prefer going to the corner, slowing up and making the sharp turn. The cut off is an easy curve and saves time and the possibility of accident.

This good weather isn't going to last much longer. And when the bad weather starts, the Suicide Club gets under way. The club consists of motorists who leave their automobile engines running inside a closed garage. Carbon monoxide is first cousin of carbolic acid with this difference, you can't see the carbon monoxide.

Field Club Caddies To Banquet Tonight

Approximately 160 caddies from the New Castle Field club tonight will convene and banquet at the Y. M. C. A. The dinner will be held at 6:30 p. m. and Phil Bridenbaugh, High school coach will address the caddies.

Following the banquet the caddies will enjoy a splash in the Y. M. C. A. pool and another diversion will be billiards. Later in the evening several amateur boxing contests between caddies will be staged.

The golf committee of the Field club is in charge of the affair.

Grand Commander Gives Degrees To Many Candidates

Grand Commander Confers Degrees On Candidates At Knights Of Templar Session

(International News Service)

OIL CITY, Pa., Nov. 20.—For the first time in the history of the Knights of Templar in Pennsylvania, a grand commander of the Grand Commandery had conferred a degree on a class of candidates today.

Right Eminent Sir, James H. Chickering, of this city, state commander, occupied the chair and granted the order of the Temple last night at the fall reunion and "past commanders night" of the Talbot commandery, a precedent in the history of the Knights of Templar.

Past commanders of the Talbot Commandery filled the other ritualistic posts. More than 200 Knights of Templar were in attendance including 17 active commanders from nearby communities, 25 past commanders from adjacent commanderies, and 19 past commanders of the Talbot Commandery.

Card Of Thanks

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for kindness and sympathy shown during illness and death of our husband and father, David P. Needler; also for floral tributes and cars donated.

Another Champion

Sixteen-year-old Margaret Lloyd, of New Berlin, Chenango County, N. Y., has been selected by the State College at Cornell University as the outstanding 4-H Club girl when it comes to home-making. As a result of her selection, Margaret will attend the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago from Nov. 29 to Dec. 5.

Prayer Service Held For Women In First Church

A prayer service of unusualness was that held Wednesday evening in the First Presbyterian church, for only the women of the congregation. The service was in charge of the deaconesses of the church and proved a most interesting one.

Mrs. S. E. McCarty, one of the oldest members of the congregation led the opening devotionals. Mrs. E. W. Crawford had a splendid paper on "The Youth of Today" and Mrs. Helen Newell gave a paper on "The Early Church of Kentucky and Ohio," after which M. Maude Elder, secretary of the church, gave a talk on "Woman's Responsibility to the Church."

Mrs. R. G. Maxwell presided at the service and at the conclusion the women all expressed their delight at the innovation.

Pheasant Flies Down His Chimney

(International News Service)

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Nov. 20.—"Your dinner is in the fireplace," Mrs. J. R. Chamberlain informed her husband here when he returned home from work.

Mr. Chamberlain is unaccustomed to getting dinner from the fireplace. He decided to investigate. He did. There, in the old-fashioned hearth, was a plump and chipper hen pheasant. Mr. Chamberlain likes pheasant, but prefers them cooked. The hen, his spouse explained, had flown down the chimney and she was at a loss as to how to remove it.

Mr. Chamberlain solved the difficulty by opening the front door.

removing the fire screen and inviting the pheasant to leave. The bird did, after fluttering about and destroying some potted flowers.

"There goes a good dinner," murmured Mr. Chamberlain as he watched the pheasant depart.

Two Initiated At Camp Ceremonies

Phalanx Fraternity's Customary Induction Occurs At Camp Fred Rentz

At a ceremonies camp initiation program of the Phalanx fraternity, held Wednesday evening at Camp Fred L. Rentz of the Y. M. C. A., along the shores of Slippery Rock creek, two new members, Philip Winter and William Wallace were inducted into membership.

Primus Alfred Owens presided over the induction, and was assisted by Ron McCoy, pro primus and Jack P. Boyles, mentor. General Secretary R. L. Meermans was in attendance.

The evening's program closed with an appetizing lunch, prepared under the direction of Mike Bowden.

Sunday Services In Harbor Church

A special Thanksgiving sermon will be preached at 11:30 Sunday morning in the Harbor United Presbyterian church by Rev. J. W. McMains, the pastor.

The Sabbath school will convene at 10:30 a. m., and the young people will meet at 7 p. m., when a program of interest to all young people in the community, will be given.

Wednesday evening of next week a community prayer service will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Kenehan.

CLUB PLANS TO HELP FAMILIES

George Washington Girl Reserve Will Donate Money And Food To Needy Ones

The George Washington Girl Reserve club, a splendid organization of over a hundred junior high school girls, are planning to put some concentrated effort into the problem of making Thanksgiving a happy day for some of the needy families of New Castle.

At the regular meeting of the club in the school building on Wednesday evening it was decided to pack baskets full of delicious and wholesome food to be presented to some local families, who would otherwise have a very drab Thanksgiving Day.

The girls also decided to not have any refreshments at the coming Christmas party and use the money to help the unfortunate. Always, heretofore the girls have had bountiful lunches at their Christmas parties. They feel this year that the money would furnish them more true enjoyment if it was used for the poor.

"World Fellowship" was the theme of the meeting and the members certainly showed real fellowship by their plans to help on Thanksgiving and Christmas. The program was interesting and well presented. Songs and dances of Holland, France, Oriental countries, Italy and Ireland were given by various members of the club in costume. It was a most fitting observance of World Fellowship Week.

Golfers Continue To Occupy Links

Weather conditions during the past week or more have been ideal for golfers and considerable players continue to golf at the municipal course. It is anticipated that as long as weather continues as it is the course will not be closed.
